SPAIN BALKS AT LEAGUE CLASSIFICATION

DISAGREE WITH COUNCIL OVER SEAT PROBLEM

Controversy Starts Over Refusal to Grant Country Permanent Place

BRAZIL OBJECTS TOO

Officials Decide to Abandon Policy of Running After United States

General (AP)—Spain is unable to accept a classification in the composition of the league of nations council which places her in the secondary rank of powers. Senor Querobol declared before the council Thursday afternoon. The attitude of his government, he stated had not undergone any change.

Dr. Afranio Mello Franco of Brazil announced that he would abstain from voting on the report of the council's reorganization commission.
This means that the commission will continue to study the problem and that meanwhile there will be diplomatic negotiations with Spain and Brazil.

M. Paul Boncour of France said he hoped the Spanish announcement did not mean that Spain's seat in the council would become vacant. Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, Foreign Minister Vandervelde of Belgium, and Signor Scialoja of Italy spoke in similar vein, urging Spain to remain in the league.

It was on the schedule Thursday for the council to receive the report of the reorganization commission and that the council should then vote to send a copy of the report to all the league members and make arrangements for the next meeting of the reorganization commission. It is freely stated by the statesmen here at the council meeting that the situation still is disagreeable, and probably impossible of clarification. Diplomatic negotiations are to be attempted to solve the problem.

WONT PROVIDE NEW SEATS

These negotiations, it is said, will presuppose that there can be no new seats provided in the council at present except for Germany. It is freely stated, it is thought probably, other powers will argue with Spain that constant rejection to a non-permanent seat will in reality mean permanency. The diplomats of Europe feel that with Brazil, the case would be more difficult because her claim must be regulated by the countries of Latin-America with Brazil dividing her non permanent seat from time to time with Argentina and Chile in order to prevent rivalry.

The representative of Italy, Signor Scialoja, has informed the council that Italy will not favor any increase in the council's membership beyond 14, the number virtually recommended by the reorganization commission—five permanent members, including Germany, and nine non permanent.

The council Wednesday decided to throw the anti-slavery draft convention into the September assembly for signature by the delegates instead of convoking a special international conference. This means that the United States will not be invited to participate in the signing, according to league officials. These officials declared that the council's attitude on this question is virtually the inauguration of a new league policy toward the United States. It is averred that the council's decision not to discuss the anti-slavery project was due chiefly to what officials describe as the failure of Washington to present its views on the draft convention submitted to it and its failure to disclose whether it desired to be a party to the proposed convention.

WONT FUSE U.

The opinion is said to be that the league has been running too much after the United States in seeking to induce that country to participate in league activities and that it would be a safer policy to allow the United States to take the initiative and cooperate when it deems the time favorable. This idea is declared to be definitely adopted by many countries who feel that the seeming attempts to force American collaboration only increase the suspicions of the Americans about the league.

Furthermore, it is held by some persons in league circles, that American cooperation tends to weaken conventions because of American aversion to creation any machinery of control which is tied up with the

OPERA SINGER WILL WED RICH CHICAGO PACKER

Chicago (AP)—A romance which began five years ago when Miss Claire Dux, European opera singer made her American debut in Chicago, has resulted in the engagement of the lyric soprano to Charles H. Swift, millionaire packer and patron of the arts.

The two will be married within a few months, probably late in August, they announced Wednesday night, and Miss Dux will give up her professional career, Mr. Swift said.

Miss Dux, who is 36, was brought to Chicago by Mary Garden when the latter, then director of the Chicago
Civic Opera Co. heard her abroad.

Mr. Swift, vice president of Swift and Company, a guarantor of the Civic Opera and a trustee of the Orchestral association met Miss Dux in her first season here.

SENATOR FESS HITS PLAN FOR CORN BELT AID

Claims Measure Favors England but Is Harmful to American Interests

Washington, D. C. (AP)—Carrying forward his fight against the McNary-Haugen corn belt plan of farm relief, Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio, has added to his list of objections the charge that it is favorable to British but not to American interests.

"It is easy to understand why a great economist of Great Britain should endorse this plan," Senator Fess told the senate. "Great Britain believes in free trade and I don't blame Sir Josiah." He charged that, if enacted, the McNary measure now before the senate would "sow the agricultural industry" in America and assure Great Britain a cheap food supply, transferring that nation's unemployment problem to the United States.

"It would feed at a lower cost than American workers, the producers of articles which come into competition with American products," he said.

MELLON OPPOSES PLAN

Secretary Mellon in the campaign for a farm relief program based on the equalization fee apparently has failed.

Appealed to by house supporters of the rejected Haugen bill the treasury head has found what he regards as alliances in the economic principle of the equalization fee.

The secretary does not rely being brought into the controversy raising about this question at the capitol, and he still has under consideration
what he ought to do about the request of the house farm leaders to render an opinion. He fears he will not be able to outline any constructive program at the present time. Mr.
Mellon has discussed the equalization fee with Sir Josiah.

Stamp who with Vice President Dawns has endorsed the proposition he indicated however, he could not agree with Sir Josiah and General Dawes.

NATION NEEDS REAL LEADERS, FRANK CLAIMS

Slaps Tendency to Choose Public Officers Who Obey Their Constituencies

Wausau (AP)—With the warning from President Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin that the American government is being endangered more by the ballots of citizens than by the bombs of communism,
the Wisconsin banker's association
Wednesday closed its largest attended meeting in its 32 years of history.

Twelve hundred persons attended the two days convention which selected Knute Anderson Eau Claire as president and left the selection of the 1927 convention city to the officers.

The danger of American democracy as viewed by President Frank lies in the tendency to elect men for public office from the rank and file instead of those with ability for great leadership courageous enough to differ from their constituencies when necessary.

Because "representatives did not represent" the people placed restrictions upon them, President Frank said, which has brought the United States close to a government by instructed delegates.

Democracy is always in danger, he said, of making its representative phonograph records of the fluctuating moods of their constituencies.
It is always in danger when the most popular leader is the one who most quickly carries out the orders of a post-carl bombardment from the folks back home.

The challenge to the present general is the development of a government "democratic enough to control its strong men's strength for purposes of leadership."

Turning to the part of businessmen in leadership President Frank expressed a belief that the greatest opportunity lies in social statesmanship.

"The businessman can serve his generation better by being statesmanlike in business than turning amateur politician because the result of social authority has shifted from politics to industry," he said.

Wall G. Coasman, Milwaukee secretary of the Wisconsin bankers association was continued in that office by the executive council.

ARREST NURSE ON MANSLAUGHTER COUNT

Milwaukee (AP)—Anna Tubby, a

CALLAHAN TAKES HEALTHY RAP AT PROHIBITION LAW

Milwaukee (AP)—John M. Callahan, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, addressing that organization here Thursday criticized national prohibition as it is enforced under the Volstead act as "obviously contrary to intelligent government and urged the adoption of a resolution favoring the repeal of the eighteenth amendment."

He favors a test vote to determine just what the attitude of the people at large is toward prohibition. Mr. Callahan also attacked the state taxes and asked that his party make an inquiry into conditions Mrs. Margaret Fragstein, of Wauwatosa, has resigned as a member of the state central committee, it was announced.

Housewives Are Urged To Enter Pies And Cakes In Cooking School Contests

The popularity of the Post-Crescent Free Electric Cooking school which is being conducted at Elk club this week was manifest in the substantial increase in attendance Wednesday. It was estimated that considerably over 300 persons were present.

Mrs. Hunt urged every one to enter a pie and cake in the contest to be held in connection with the school.
The contest is open to all and any kind of pie or cake may be entered.
The tins or pans will not be returned so Mrs. Hunt advised using paper plates. The entries must be sent to the school at Elk hall Friday morning between 10 o'clock and noon. The pies will be cut and judged on taste, flakiness of the crust, color and general appearance. The icing will not count much in scoring the cakes as most of the emphasis will be placed on the taste, texture, aroma and general appearance. The pies and cakes will be sold after the contest and the proceeds will be given to the Appleton Welfare council for charitable purposes.

The correct way to set a table for various occasions is demonstrated at the school. The latest table appointments are used and each day the table is set for a different type of meal.
Wednesday it was arranged for a simple family dinner.

Mrs. Hunt gave many interesting and novel party suggestions and showed a simple way of making attractive sandwiches for card parties.
She sliced dark and white bread, removed the crust and cut from the center of the slices various shape with cookie cutters. The shape cut from the white slice was fitted in the space left in the dark slice and vice versa.
These were particularly suitable for card parties when cut in club, diamond, heart and spade shapes.

GIVES BREAD RECIPE

A splendid recipe for quick bread was given at the Wednesday session.
The measurements were: 2 cakes of yeast, 1 quart of lukewarm water, 2 tablespoons full of sugar, 1 tablespoon of melted butter and 3 quarts of sifted flour. The yeast and sugar were dissolved in lukewarm water and enough flour added to make a smooth batter. Then the salt and flour to make dough stiff enough to be kneaded were added.

Melted butter was to be mixed in last. Mrs. Hunt said the dough should be kneaded until smooth and elastic and then put in a warm place free from drafts to rise. The bread should be allowed to rise for an hour and a half and then it should be moulded in loaves that would about half fill the well greased pans. When the bread has risen to the top of the pan it

SENATOR ASKS FOR REPEAL OF VOLSTEAD ACT

Wadsworth's Statement Causes Political Sensation in Washington

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1926 Post Pub. Co.

Washington—Senator Wadsworth's statement calling for the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment and the substitution for it of another amendment confering on congress the power to deal with the prohibition question has produced a political sensation here.

The New York senator is the first Republican of national prominence in congress to go to the heart of the modification controversy and declares frankly for the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment with a constructive alternative. In this respect even the "drys" concede there is more logic in Mr. Wadsworth's method of attack than in any of the cries for modification of the Volstead act which have been the basis of the prohibition agitation for several years.

The drys have always preferred an out-and-out statement that the issue can not be settled by modifying the Volstead act but can only be changed when the Eighteenth amendment to the constitution is modified.

The fact that Mr. Wadsworth will make the fight for re-nomination and re-election on the platform he has just announced makes the race in the Empire state of national significance, especially since the drys have selected a candidate to oppose him on that ground.

Mr. Wadsworth's point is that in as much as the framers of the constitution conferred on congress such all important powers as the regulation of interstate commerce, it is wise to entrust general powers over the manufacture, sale and transportation of alcoholic beverages. His argument is that if the constitution were to be phrased in the form of statutes it would have long ago proved a worthless document. A parallel would have been the enactment of an amendment specifying the exact rates that could be charged by railroads instead of conferring on congress the right to name a commission to listen to arguments and change the rates according to changing economic conditions.

The New York senator's proposal is that a simple constitutional amendment giving broad powers to congress is the logical way to handle this and other questions in which changing conditions may call for different legislation. Under the circumstances, he feels that the people have tried their own hands and can not really modify the Volstead act very much unless they change the phraseology of the Eighteenth amendment too.

The drys welcome a battle along these lines because both the west and south contain enough dry states to block any change in the Eighteenth amendment. It takes just one more state than one fourth, namely 13 states in all to vote against a change in the Eighteenth amendment and the proposal would be lost. The drys feel they can always command the veto power.

As for the wets they have begun an educational campaign in the hope of persuading the dry states that the issue is not simply whether the country shall be wet or dry but whether the constitution itself shall be made the subject of legislation or whether congress shall be given general powers to legislate. Constitutional lawyers have been arguing long this very point for many years irrespective of prohibition.

Mr. Wadsworth's statement is viewed generally here as an aggressive attack on the problem from a constitutional viewpoint. Some of his Republican friends from eastern states said Thursday it is a big enough issue to bring the New York senator into the presidential race in case Mr.
Coolidge does not run. Certainly it has made many senators wonder whether after all the Wadsworth statement and the call for a national referendum do not after all give them a way out of a troublesome question.
The difficulty heretofore has been that the wets have confined themselves entirely to attack without stating definitely their program. Mr. Wadsworth proposes the Quebec system of government regulation of the sale of liquors which he thinks could be operated under a modified federal amendment.

WHITEMORE IS SENTENCED TO DIE ON GALLOWS

Baltimore, — (AP)—Richard Reese Whitemore, "million dollar crime trust" leader and slayer of a Maryland penitentiary guard, Thursday was sentenced to die on the gallows.
He killed Robert H. Holtzman in Escaping from the penitentiary in February 1925.

Sentence was pronounced by criminal court Judge Eugene O'Dunne behind locked court room doors. Under the Maryland Jury's unqualified first degree murder verdict there were only two possible sentences the Judge could impose—death or life imprisonment. Date of execution will be set by the Governor Albert C. Ritchie, but will automatically be deferred by an appeal which White-more and his counsel, Edgar Allen
Poe, have announced will be taken.

MRS. OWEN IN CLOSE FIGHT FOR CONGRESS

Daughter of Bryan, Running Behind, Charges Irregularities in Vote Tally

Jacksonville, Fla. (AP)—The possibility of an election contest in the Fourth congressional district where Congressman William J. Sears on incomplete returns led Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the late Wm. Jennings Bryan, for the congressional nomination loomed Thursday.

Charging irregularities in several counties, particularly in Monroe-co, James M. Carson, members of the campaign committee for Mrs. Owen, declared Wednesday night at Miami that a contest would be made of the returns if they did not show Mrs.
Owen's nomination. Mrs. Owen trailed today by 304 votes with only 30 precincts missing.

Mr. Carson said he had been advised of irregularities in Monroe-co.
With three small precincts missing, Monroe-co gave Sears 1,584 votes and Mrs. Owen 429.

Meanwhile at Kissimmee, Congressman Sears declared that he would welcome a recount in Monroe-co or any other county the Owen forces desired.

While the Owen forces were talking about the possibility of a contest of the returns political observers raised the question as to whether it might not be possible that a Republican would be seated from the district, should Mrs. Owen win a contest over Sears. They predicted their speculations on the fact that the question had been raised regarding Mrs.
Owen's eligibility to the office due to the fact that she temporarily lost her citizenship through marriage to Major Reynold Owen, a British army officer.

Mrs. Owen regained her citizenship on the passage of the law providing for naturalization under these circumstances, but it was suggested that congress in passing upon her qualifications for the seat could bring up the question.

CLAIMS EACH VARE BALLOT COST ABOUT $3

Member of Pinchot Campaign Says Fraud Is Rampant
in Allegheny-co

DEFEATS WILL OF PEOPLE

Pepper Forces Had Over 14,- 000 Paid Watchers in Recent Campaign

Washington, D. C. (AP)—The senate committee on funds was told by a member of Governor Pinchot's political campaign that a fund amounting to "a pure purchase of votes" existed in Pittsburgh. A Pepper-Mellon stronghold at the time of the recent Republican senatorial primary in Pennsylvania.

The witness was C. C. McGovern manager of Pinchot's western headquarters during the campaign that resulted in the nomination of Representative Vore over Governor Pinchot and Senator Pepper.

For years, he said, the election machinery of Allegheny-co in which Pittsburgh is located had been in a condition "made to order for fraud—and it works excellently." He estimated that the Pepper organization had 3,350 "watchers" at the polls in that county, and the Vore organization 14,000.

"They were paid workers?" asked the committee chairman, Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri.

"Yes, their votes were paid for in advance McGovern replied.
The rate of pay for the watchers,
the witness said was $10 and Senator Reed computed that the total cost of watchers for Pepper and Vore in that county alone must have been $430,000.
Senator King, Democrat, Utah, remarked that for all the votes, the county cast for Senator Pepper the average cost was $4.14 and Reed added that the average for Vore was $3.21 a vote.

HAD NO WATCHERS

Pinchot, McGovern said, had no watchers in Allegheny-co. He said the district attorney at Pittsburgh was Republican county chairman, supported Pepper and the Pinchot forces felt it would "mean nothing" if they attempted to present evidence of fraud. At one point McGovern named Representative Morin of Pen-sylvania as his informant about the Pepper workers. He said however that the peculiarities of the Pittsburgh system were notorious and that the paying of watchers had been common "so patently a purchase of votes" that there was widespread comment and protest. He described what he called the "strip type politicians" who originated in the tem-ent "strip" north of the Allegheny-co, and had circulated their methods over the entire country.

"They weigh the vote instead of counting it," he said, and cited the 1922 primary returns of the second ward of Pittsburgh when Alger, Republican received 1900 votes as compared with Governor Pinchot's eighty.
In the November general election
Pinchot received the same eighty.
McGovern said, while MacSparran his Democratic opponent received the 1900.

The Republican Pennsylvania machine is controlled by State Senator
M. G. Leslie in the West, the witness said and by Vore in the east. The two organizations may differ at times, he continued, but "usually get together a day or so before the primary" and decide upon the ticket they desire to "put over and defeat the will of the people."

Cooking School Attracting Many

should be baked for 45 or 60 minutes at a temperature of 400 degrees.

Mrs. Hunt believes that it is important to serve food in an attractive way, so she demonstrated methods of making simple but effective garnishes. She sliced carrots and cut them in novel designs with miniature cutters.

The recipe used for biscuits made at the cooking school consists of 4 test-spoons full of baking powder, 1 tablespoon of salt, 1/2 cup of milk and 4 tablespoons of melted fat. The dry ingredients were sifted together in a bowl and the milk was added to the center of the mixture. Melted fat was stirred in last. A soft dough was made and biscuits were cut. Mrs. Hunt advised heating the oven to 500 degrees before putting the biscuits in a hot oven.

She said it was better to allow the temperature a little for the actual baking.

Prize winners at the Wednesday evening were Mrs. Naver LaRue, Little Chute; Mrs. C. H. Emans, 113 Broad-st. Menasha; Mrs. L. R. Barlaimont, 606 N. Onondaga-st. Mrs. R. A. Munson, Black Creek; Mrs. R. Zerkel, 621 W. Franklin-st. and Mrs. Ray Feasel, 502 N. State-st.

THE SILVER HORDE OF THE SEA—Fish will be the subject of Friday's lesson. This will be the final day of the school and after the class period prizes will be awarded in the pie and cake baking contest. The grand prize a Hotpoint Electric stove also will be given at this time.

Mrs. Hunt says though fish is not such a nutritious or stimulating as butcher's meat it is an excellent article of diet as it is light and easy of digestion and well suited to delicate persons and those following sedentary occupations who generally do not take exercises in the fresh air. Fish contains a fair proportion of flesh forming a mineral matter. A few fishes are rich in fat as salmon, mackerel and herrings.

Fish to be fried should be cooked in sufficient hot fat to well cover it, after having been dried and covered with batter, or with beaten egg and breadcrumbs. To fry and breadcrumb fish put a slice into seasoned flour, turning it so that both sides may be covered. Shake off all loose flour. Brush fish over with beaten egg. Raise fish out of egg with the brush and knife, drain off egg for a second and lay fish in crumbs. The thicker the fish the more slowly it must be fried after the first two minutes, or it will be raw inside when the outside is done.

Edward Reitzner, 227 S. Outagamie-st. denies that it was his car which caught fire from a short circuit in the motor on the E. John-st. bridge about 3:40 Wednesday morning as stated in Wednesday's issue of the Post-Crescent. He was listed on the fire department's report as the owner of the car.

To bone fish—The process of boning is known as filleting and is generally done by the fish dealer, but when this is not the case, the single rule for boning must be strictly adhered to in order to keep the knife on the bone—lifting the flesh with the left hand while the knife slips in between the bone and the flesh. Flat fish are divided down the middle of each side well into the bone, and the boning is begun at either side of the incision. Round fish are cut down the back the flesh is laid open from one side and the bone is removed from the other. Occasionally round fish are boned readily, the whole fish minus the bones being returned to its proper shape.

BAKED HALIBUT—Two pounds of halibut, 1 cupful tomatoes, 2 tablespoonfuls flour, 2 tablespoonfuls fat, 1/2 teaspoonful salt, 1/2 teaspoonful pepper. Clean fish, season with salt and pepper, dredge with flour place in greased baking pan pour over tomatoes, and dot with fat. Bake in a moderate oven, basting often.

CONTEST RULES—Mrs. Hunt has given some suggestions that may be of help to those entering in the pie and cake contest. Ingredients and utensils should always be cold. All dry ingredients should be sifted thoroughly. Shortening should be cut in but not too fine. Ice water should be added uniformly, using a sprinkler. Pastry should be handled lightly and slightly. Pastry should be rolled over lightly from the center, edgewise, and should never be stretched to fit the tin. Pastry should be rolled and then carefully placed on the tin. Butter makes crisp crust. Lard and other shortenings make a soft crust. Pie shells should be carefully placed on inverted pie tins, and to prevent bubbles forming during baking, should be well vented. Custard pies are better flavored if baked in unbaked pie crusts. Pies with a previously cooked filling as cream pies, lemon pies, etc., are best baked in previously baked crusts.

SHOULD HUSBANDS DO HOUSE WORK?

How Mrs. Dyer Solved the Problem.

Mrs. Mildred Dyer was lucky. She had a good-natured husband who helped her with much of her housework. Because she was in ill health for five years, it was often necessary for him to do this. But it bothered Mrs. Dyer. She felt that he had to work hard enough anyway.

The time he spent in doing her work was needed for his own. She determined to find the road to better health.

She writes: "I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is simply wonderful. My health is better than it has ever been. I am getting stronger and gaining in weight."

The Dyers live at Redlands, Calif., Route 4, Box 183.

How often does your husband have to do your housework? No matter how willing he is, no woman feels comfortable about it. Perhaps you, too, will find better health through the faithful use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

thrashing end. The brass nozzle cut a huge gash in the thigh of his leg, knocking him to the ground and striking him about the face and head several times. He suffered a compound depressed fracture of the skull and severe lacerations about the face and right leg. He was rushed to St. Elizabeth hospital in a Sager-Bronson ambulance where he is in a serious condition. According to the attending physician he has a fighting chance for

U. S. PROMISES RIPARIANS AID ON UPPER WOLF

Federal Government and College of Agriculture Will Cooperate in Survey

Steps probably will be taken in the near future to restore riparian owners and manufacturers on the upper Wolf river from the ever constant flood menace which threatens them, as the federal government has agreed to cooperate with the Wisconsin College of Agriculture in making a survey of the imperiled area, according to word received from Allen H. Tripp, Oshkosh, president of the Association for the Relief of High Water. The association attended a hearing before the rivers and harbors board last December in Washington and requested that the government make a survey of the flooded districts above New London. The board ruled that the area in question was outside the control of the United States as far as navigation was concerned for navigation ends at New London.

Governor John J. Blaine later took the matter up with members of the Association for the Relief of High Water and offered the services of Prof. E. R. Jones, Wisconsin chief drainage engineer, to map out a plan for the relief of riparians from Poygan to Shawano dam.

Prof. Jones has recently received word from Washington that the division of agricultural engineering has been given authority to cooperate with the state department of agriculture in surveying the upper Wolf. The present plan is to have the Federal department put two men on the project for three months beginning July 1 and to also have two surveyors from the college of agriculture for the same length of time. The association must raise about $600 to pay the expenses of the men making the survey. A meeting will be called this month at New London, probably on June 18 for the purpose of subscribing this amount.

Several farms on the upper Wolf were abandoned last year and others will be abandoned this year unless immediate relief from the high water damage is obtained. Mr. Tripp says there will be no let up in the work of the association until the flood menace around the upper Wolf valley district is conquered. Mr. Tripp said

TAKE FLOURNIER TO STATE PRISON

Undersheriff Earl Schwartz Accompanies Prisoner to Waupun

Clarence Flournier, 20, Green Bay, alias Clarence Smith, arrested May 28 by Appleton police for forgery, and sentenced from one to two years in state prison last week by Judge Theodore Berg, was taken to Waupun Tuesday afternoon by Undersheriff Earl Schwartz.

Flournier rented an automobile from an Appleton livery, and offered a forged check in payment of rent and damage to the car. He was arrested by Police Chief Pirm at an Appleton hotel.

While in the city jail May 29, Flournier attempted to commit suicide by swallowing ground glass, tin foil and several coins. No injury resulted from the attempt, however, and Flournier was returned to jail after treatment at a hospital.

Flournier served two sentences for previous forgeries, one in the Waushara school for boys and the other at the Green Bay reformatory.

ERICSSON MEMORIAL STAMPS ARRIVE HERE

A quantity of new Ericsson memorial stamps were received Monday at the Appleton postoffice. BUCHANAN TALKS TO ROTARY CLUB

Explains Six Factors Essential to Any Successful Business

Six factors necessary for successful business are capital, location, experience, modern machinery, management, efficiency and enthusiasm of the entire organization," said G. E. Buchanan in a talk before the Rotary club Tuesday noon at Hotel Northern.

The Essentials of Good Business was his topic. He said that good business was determined by three factors, service to the community, benefit to the community as a whole, and returns to those undertaking it. He cited figures from Bradstreet to show some causes of failures. They include lack of capital, inefficient business methods, poor location, lack of knowledge of business and poor service.

Dr. Luther Moore was presented with several appropriate presents by the stunt committee in honor of his birthday. Dr. A. W. Kanouse, a visitor, told how the old soldiers appreciated the invitation to their weekly luncheons each year.

BERGER AND THE CONSTITUTION

Mr. Berger wants to remake the constitution of the United States. He says the constitution which was adequate to the needs of 1789 cannot be adequate to the needs of 1926, but he forgets that we have had nineteen amendments of this instrument to bring about the adaptation. We have amended the constitution whenever we felt the need of it. The probability is we have amended it too often. There are many who regret the next to the last amendment, and we suspect Mr. Berger is one of them.

Mr. Berger wants to scuttie the constitution for one purpose only, and that is to bring about socialism or communism or something imitative of Russia. He will tell you in the same breath he recites the inadequacy of a constitution adopted in 1789, that Washington's supposed admonition against entangling alliances is as pat today as it was then, and that the world has undergone no change which would modify this pronouncement in the 137 years that have intervened. Mr. Berger thinks thusly because he has a hate on the League of Nations and the world court. It is merely convenient doctrine, and the same is true of his attack on the constitution.

Some of the soccer-progressives will follow him on this constitution stuff. They want to denature the supreme court and let congress, in its whims, emotions, log-rolling and political knavery, enact any law it sees fit, constitution or no constitution. They, too, forget that this would destroy the few remaining powers of the states and centralize all authority in an oligarchy at Washington. But that, in a nutshell, is socialism. The idea in Mr. Berger's mind is not to modernize the constitution, since it always will be modern, but to pave the way to sovietism.

THE WORLD CHANGES

One of the most spectacular effects of science on civilization is modern industry and all it has done for us and to us. In a period of less than 200 years the western world has been changed more than in the many thousands of years preceding. In the last century the change was far greater than in the preceding century. In the last half century the pace was much faster than in the 50 previous years. The pace is ever more and more rapid. Where will the next half century take us?

The reason for the increase in the speed of our progress is quite simple. Science is cumulative. It breeds. The inventions that grew out of science multiply with tremendous speed. It is only reasonable to suppose that if civilization survives, it will change with ever increasing rapidity.

And every major change will alter our living conditions and change us personally. Therefore it behooves us to learn to be more and more adaptable to change lest we be overwhelmed with antiquity. At the same time it will be well to cultivate balance, for it is the rapid movement of civilization that has thrown the world into the present state of turmoil.

LLOYD GEORGE FIASCO

We suspect that Herbert Asquith, Sir John Simon and others of the Liberal leaders were somewhat premature in reading Lloyd George out of the party. Mr. Lloyd George was denounced for his attitude during the recent general strike in Great Britain. The ex-war premier took a rather democratic attitude toward the strike, which was held by the staunch loyalists to be very close to political treason. Mr. Lloyd George may have been technically wrong, as he himself has since admitted, but the humanity of his position, which was what he really intended, was not wrong.

If Lloyd George were to be put out of the Liberal party there would be nothing left of that all but ship-wrecked organization. Mr. Asquith was a good prime minister in his day, but his day was before the war. Despite all his faults, Lloyd George is a modernist. He has kept pace with the world's changes, at times a little abreast of them. That is why he is not popular with the staid British conservatives, and we must not forget there are men of this type in the Liberal party as well as in the Unionist.

By a vote of 20 to 12 a Liberal party meeting voted to retain Mr. Lloyd George as leader in the house of commons. As Mr. Brookhart would say, he is vindicated. It was a foolish performance all around. It was like riding some of our modern ministers out of the pulpit for intelligent twentieth century interpretation of the Bible and theology. Lloyd George might get along without the Liberal party, but hardly the reverse. However, we should not be too conclusive; we may still have to hear from Margot Asquith on the subject.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

FOR LAWRENCE COLLEGE

(From the Green Bay Press-Gazette)
The trustees of Lawrence college have authorized a campaign to raise $3,000,000 for the construction of new buildings and enlargement of the endowment fund. The drive is to extend over a period of three years. Approximately $1,225,000 of the sum to be raised is appropriated to the erection of new buildings, the balance to endowment. This is an ambitious program and on first blush there are some who will say it is impossible of realization—too large an expectation by a college of Lawrence's size. There is no doubt that it is a large contract to fill, but it can be done.

Lawrence is one of the best colleges in Wisconsin—one of the best in the northwest. It is an institution of great economic and cultural value to the whole Fox River valley, and it should be made an outstanding asset of the valley. Green Bay has a special interest in Lawrence college, and so have all of the other cities of northeastern Wisconsin. Many parents are coming to the conclusion that the smaller colleges turn out better products than some of our great universities, at much less cost and much less danger to the student. Certainly the instruction and work required are of a high order. Lawrence has the background that makes for permanency and expansion. The whole Fox River valley should unite, to say nothing of alumni throughout the state and in other states, in support of the drive.

Not long ago Appleton raised something in the neighborhood of a million dollars for a new hospital. About the same time it promptly financed a new eighteen hole golf course, notwithstanding there was a well established course already in existence. Two years ago Green Bay raised more than a million dollars in one year for a Y. M. C. A. and community building. In comparison to these undertakings, the campaign for $3,000,000 for Lawrence college is not excessive. It testifies to a progressive spirit, aggressive management and a large perspective. We hope the campaign succeeds. We believe it will. It ought to, and that is sufficient reason for putting it across. The Fox River valley is accustomed to handling big enterprises. In larger they are the greater effort it puts forth. It does not often fail.

TODAY'S POEM

By HAL COCHRAN

Father Time brings queer things in the life of a man and we all have our cheer-time and sorrow. The wise fellow does just the best that he can with out knowing what's coming tomorrow.

We've all heard folks kick about this and 'bout that and you, too, have done plenty of stewing. You'll fret till you hardly know where you are at, and the punch drops from what you are doing.

It seems it's too easy to sit back and fret while you park all your pep on the shelf. And yet, it's the truth, that wherever you get, it is pretty much up to yourself.

A sympathy strain in each fellow is found and it's human, but isn't it true that whenever you're spreadin' such sympathy 'round you, often, feel sorry for you.

You won't need to worry 'bout where you are getting or fret about what labor brings, if you'll turn all the energy wasted in fretting to really accomplishing things.

You may think your lot is a tough one, but then, just looking around you assures that the lot of a whole lot of other men is a whole lot worse than yours.

The first metal discovered by man was copper, which is also the first discovered by a boy who likes candy.

THIS IS THE SEASON FOR WET FEET

The wonder is that so many of us manage to keep our feet dry, or moderately dry, in spite of the unhygienic shoes we wear.

Let's not quarrel today. The subject is hyperhidrosis, and when the feet are so affected the victim wets his feet, unwittingly, of course, and does not get his feet wet in the conventional way, so that the orthodox would not deem him in danger, and there is nothing to quarrel about. Hyperhidrosis of the feet is uncomfortable and annoying, and about as hard on shoe leather as conventional wetting of the feet is, but that is all the harm it does.

The first and best remedy for excessive sweating of the feet is the natural one—going barefoot. There was a time, I can remember, when no gentleman was a gentleman without a bolted shirt on, even now if a gentleman attends a formal function barefoot some people brand him a nut or a sap. Yet there are certain occasions when almost anybody may enjoy the luxury of going barefoot, and anybody troubled with sweating of the feet should make the most of such occasions.

Heat is a main factor in hyperhidrosis of the feet and considerable heat is generated by the friction of footwear. The most effective way to prevent friction is lubrication. Perhaps the most satisfactory lubricant for this particular purpose is a generous dose of plain talcum in the shoes or in the stockings every day. The talc commonly used for preventing friction in automobile tires is quite suitable for this purpose.

A few X-ray treatments of the affected area of skin by a physician skilled in such treatment, will control hyperhidrosis better than any other method of treatment in bad cases.

I believe stockings with woolen feet or soles are preferable to cotton or silk for one with very sweaty feet.

It is important to avoid undue constriction of the leg or ankle or foot with tight garters or shoes.

Using the plain talcum for lubrication in the day a good remedy for mild cases is a powder to be applied to the feet at night, made of salicylic acid one dram, boric acid two drams, tartaric acid two drams, zinc oxide one ounce, and talcum one ounce. That means approximately 5 per cent of salicylic acid, 10 of boric, 10 of tartaric, and 40 per cent each of zinc oxide and talcum.

For more troublesome cases the soles and the spaces between the toes should be painted one or twice daily for a week or 10 days with a solution of one dram of chromic acid in two ounces of water. Let this dry on the skin. It stains the skin yellow temporarily.

Aluminum chloride has earned great popularity as a remedy for excessive sweating of the feet or of the armpits. For the feet, a rather stronger solution may be used than the tender skin of the armpits would tolerate. It is usually sufficient to mop or paint the skin of the feet, each alternate day for a week or two with a solution of one ounce of aluminum chloride in three ounces of rain water or distilled water. For the armpits a solution of half an ounce of aluminum chloride to three ounces of water is generally strong enough and a light sponging or painting on alternate days for three or four times will control the sweating for weeks. The aluminum chloride solution should be allowed to dry on the skin before dressing. It is not good for clothing.

For severe cases of sweating of the feet probably the sovereign remedy is formaldehyde solution—painting the soles about twice a week with as strong a solution of formaldehyde in water as the skin will tolerate—one ounce to a half pint of water is usually strong enough.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Expectant Mother's Teeth

Is it harmful for an expectant mother to have some rather painful dental work done? (R. C.)
Answer—As a general rule the expectant mother should not postpone any necessary dental treatment. In any case it is best to have your physician's advice or attendance.

U. S. TO PROTECT MORE FULLY WAR'S MENTAL VICTIMS

Officials Appointed by Veterans Bureau Fleece Disabled Soldiers

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C.—Insanity as a by-product of war, and a terrible by-product the devastating horrors of which only begin to be felt after war is over, has come strongly to the attention of the Federal Government this year. At the present time no less than four separate investigations into the subject are under way in committees of the house of representatives, while the United States Veterans' bureau, the Public Health Service, and many state and local authorities have the problem in their hands.

Fully 100,000 veterans of the World War are suffering from some form of mental or nervous disorder. Not all of this number are hopelessly insane, but many are permanently affected, and others are in a condition of shattered nerves which is slowly healing under modern methods of treatment. Those definitely classified as insane are under the legal control of guardians, and the present investigations are dealing to a great extent with these guardians, and with the handling of government money paid to these guardians for the care of veterans who have been declared incompetent.

While modern medicine was able almost to prevent typhoid and other diseases prevalent in former wars from afflicting our armies of 1917-19, science could not prevent the shocks and sufferings of war from driving men mad. The new term, "neuro-psychiatric" is more pleasant than "madman" and is gentler, especially when applied to the curable nervous or mental cases, but the fact remains that many great new hospitals have been filled by men who in the old terms were called crazy, and state asylums and private sanitariums harbor many others.

The suicide rate among veterans has been very high, obviously as the result of nervous and mental disorders resulting from the shocks of war.

The plight of the insane veteran is perhaps more terrible than that of the man who gave an arm or leg, or suffered some other physical disability, in the country's service. The madman has not even the consolation of knowing that he suffered in his nation's cause. He is not amenable to the comforting kindness of friends or relatives, or of the welfare societies which offer help to disabled service men.

Crises are on record where soldiers who performed acts of great valor and then lost their minds through the shock and horror of their experiences, are suffering mental tortures in the erroneous belief that they were cowards. They simply exercised such great mental self-control to save themselves from the temptation to flee from danger that their minds snapped under the strain.

LONG IN HEALING

Those who saw the conditions of modern battle, with the earthquake under artillery fire, the air poisoned with deadly gas, the ground spouting under machine gun bullets, the ear-drums pounded by the roar of high explosives, and the vision of death and suffering on every hand, realize how a mind that snapped under such tension will be long in healing.

The government was quick to realize the problem presented by the mentally disabled, and has provided modern hospitals for their treatment, and ul-

laws them compensation under the same principles which apply to the physically disabled. This is all handled through the Veterans' bureau. It now finds that while it can control the treatment and compensation of these men, the handling of their property, including their compensation allowances, is a matter of state law in each state, and many abuses have grown up through careless appointing of guardians for the property of these men.

Something more than a year ago the Veterans' bureau appointed a guardianship officer as one of the assistants to Director Frank T. Hines. This officer, Major Davis Arnold, made a survey of the conditions surrounding the guardians appointed to care for the property of incompetent veterans, and for children of deceased veterans. He found that many of these guardians were not reporting regularly to the state courts which appointed them, and that some of the insane veterans were in state asylums and were not getting any benefit from the money paid them by the government, while the guardians were getting large fees.

While Major Arnold had no authority except to investigate and make recommendations, he was able to bring many local courts to a more strict realization of their duty. Gradually conditions have improved. Dependent relatives of incompetent veterans are in many cases receiving the government compensation. Men whose cases show any hope of cure are in hospitals where they are being carefully treated. Guardians' fees have been cut down, and guardians who were not performing real services for their wards have in many places been removed.

EXCESSIVE FEES CHARGED

Congress has, however, discovered many cases where guardians have been profiting excessively from handling the money of veterans, and the Veterans' committee of the house of representatives is now investigating the whole subject. There is also a special investigation under way by the District of Columbia committee, dealing with the status of the insane veterans in the national capital, and Congressman Blanton has offered in pending charges against District Commissioner Penning, who has specialized in law practice in handling the affairs of insane persons. Mr. Blanton charges that Commissioner Penning has collected exorbitant fees for handling these estates.

While it is not unlikely that Mr. Penning has been entirely within the law in handling the cases in which he has been interested, the Blanton charges have brought to the attention of Congress the fact that it was apparently possible for one attorney to acquire a lucrative practice just in handling the property of insane persons, chiefly veterans. It has also developed that in some jurisdictions the process of declaring a person insane does not involve a jury hearing or the presence of the person before any judge, but that affidavits by physicians or other witnesses are accepted as conclusive.

These and other facts have prompted Congress to look with care into the whole question of how the mental sufferers of the War are being cared for, not only in their persons but in their property. Even those with no other property have their government compensation, which is often the sole support of dependent wives, parents, or children. This compensation is frequently as much as $17.50 per month, including war risk insurance.

Not all of the mental cases draw that much, however. Congress two years ago declared that incompetent veterans having no dependents, and being cared for in government hospitals, had no need of $80 or $100 cash per month in addition to their care, and cut the amount in such cases to $20, which seemed adequate for spending money. The larger sums go only to those with dependent families.

The charges preferred against Commissioner Penning in the District of Columbia are said to have a political phase, which may keep them in the public eye for some time, but this instance is serving to cause a careful check-up on the whole problem of care for this class of war sufferers, which ought to result in many improvements. Much depends on state and local authorities cooperating with the Veterans' bureau to insure that every just thing possible is done for the mentally afflicted of the terrible conflict.

TELEPHONE CO. TO SPEND VAST SUM IN STATE

Extensions and Improvements in Wisconsin Next Year to Cost $6,000,000

Madison, (AP)—Wisconsin telephone companies will spend approximately $6,000,000 this year to meet the continually increasing demand for service. John A. Pratt, president of the Wisconsin State Telephone Association, reported at the annual convention here Wednesday.

The money will be spent for extension of lines, improvement of plants, new equipment and replacement of worn out and obsolete structures, he said.

"The telephone business," explained Mr. Pratt, "is unique in that the growth of the business raises the unit cost of operation instead of lowering it as is the case in most other businesses."

"There is no wholesaling of telephone service. During the year about 781,000,000 local and long distance calls were handled by approximately 850 telephone companies operating in the state. Each one of the individual calls that were made are retail transactions involving the efforts of at least three persons each time. This is a per capita use of about 270 calls a year for each man, woman and child in the state."

"There are about 450,000 telephones in use in the state, placing Wisconsin twelfth in rank in the number of telephones in the United States. Wisconsin ranks eighth in the number of farms having telephones."

F. M. McEniry, Milwaukee, urged cooperation by the companies in the efforts to improve service by instruction in the use of the telephone.

John N. Cadby, Madison, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Utilities Association, urged co-operation between telephone companies and electric companies in constructing and maintaining rural lines.

"Telephone and electric pole lines generally must occupy the same highway and everything possible should be done not to impair the beauty of a roadway," said Mr. D. Cadby. "Telephone and electric companies should plan their work on the basis that farmers are going to have both classes of utility service within a few years."

YOUR CHILD'S CAREER

World Needs Men With Trained Heads, Hearts and Hands, Says Great Industrial Leader

No. 3

BY EDWARD N. HURLEY
Chairman U. S. Shipping Board During World War, Industrialist, Nationally Known Manufacturer and One of America's Recognized Business Leaders

This whole matter of success is a question of man-power and salesmanship.

What do you think you can do best? Is your personality and physique such that you would make a good salesman?

If you are selling goods, would your approach to a prospect create confidence and give you sufficient bearing to sell your wares?

In addition to personality you must have courage and courage with a smile. I mean this literally. You must first satisfy yourself that you are going to succeed instead of trying to satisfy a boss.

Edward N. Hurley

DREAMING AND WORKING

The young man that has to be drilled and urged to work will always be a hired man. Dream and work for an objective and your dreams will come true if you concentrate and put energy back of your dreams.

The theory that you should forget your business when you come home at night may be all right, but the man who thinks about his work and is planning continually is the man who wins.

None of us works as hard today as we used to, and this applies to young men as well as to older ones, so there is a greater opportunity for the hardworking man who is planning and scheming to accomplish results than there has ever been. It is up to you!

School, education and college training are fine things. Get all you can of them. We have more college men today than ever before, and their number is increasing yearly, with the result that we are developing leadership in many pursuits.

The successful man of tomorrow must be fully equipped to meet his college-trained competitor. But if you would have some practical work at the same time you are studying, meet men in offices and shops, learn to know people. It will be most helpful.

TRY TO SELL

If salesmanship is your forte, you could try to sell something to your fellow students or as a house-to-house canvasser. Some of our greatest merchants, like Marshall Field and others, started selling groceries in a general store. It is a great training for any man.

Many business enterprises are looking for new men to shake up old organizations that have gone to sleep and are lacking in leaders with man-power and force back of them. Leadership in business, industry or in any field goes to the man with the most energy, imagination and vision, and not to those who feel that with a chart of figures results can be produced by just being a boss.

A college education is a great asset if it is not over-capitalized. If over-rated it may become a burden. Learn to like people about you, and they will become fond of you. There is something fine about everyone if you are broad and big enough to find it out.

Meet as many important men as you can. Ask their advice. It will be profitable for you to do this.

And remember that our forefathers pioneered this country in industry.

FEARLESS BUILDERS

We need more men to build and accomplish, and fewer men for the professions and white-collar jobs.

We need more men who will learn to use their hands and brains together. We need men who are not afraid, but glad to start at the bottom of industry's ladder and discover for themselves in practical manner how the machinery is pieced together.

We need fewer men to fill the easy gaps and ride the swivel chairs. We need fewer men who think that simply by hanging out their professional shingles the world owes them a living will come to their doors.

We need fewer men, regardless how fine their intentions, to take the easy middle road and make expense and profit on the energies of others without being actual producers themselves.

I have often felt that the soft job, the professional career, and the white-collared berth, which so many indulgent mothers cover from false pride and dignity for their sons, constitute a growing curse upon this country.

This is an industrial nation. We need and want skilled workers who can direct and help command our giant enterprises. We need these workers highly trained in hand, heart and head. For such there is unlimited opportunity of the most constructive kind and commensurate reward.

CHARM DOCTORS STILL USED

In the outlying sections of Florida there are still remnants of voodooism. Sickness is treated with a series of incantations and strange practices such as hanging beads, dirty rags and snake rattles about the patient's body. In these communities where the voodoo doctor still works, almost every other man owns an automobile.

5,000 EXPECTED HERE ON SUNDAY AT SAENGERFEST

Ten Choirs Will Participate in Open Air Concert at 2 O'clock

Between 3,000 and 5,000 people are expected in Appleton next Sunday to attend the annual Saengerfest of the Lutheran Congregations of the Synodical Conference of the Fox River Valley. The Saengerfest is to be held at Pierce park and a huge picnic is being planned in conjunction. The ladies of St. Matthew church, which is in charge, will serve a picnic dinner and supper at the grounds, cafeteria style.

The Rev. E. Ph. Dornfeld of St. Mark church at Milwaukee will give the sermon at the open air services at the park at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. The male choir of Fond du Lac and the Saengerfest Mass choir will sing at the morning services.

At 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon ten choirs from the Lutheran churches of Appleton, Neenah, Fond du Lac, Brillion, Winneconne, New London, Kaukauna and other cities in the valley will take part in the open air singing concert. Sacred and secular numbers will be sung under the direction of Prof. E. Jacobs of Fond du Lac, the director of the Saengerfest and Ernest Schultz of Appleton, assistant director.

During the afternoon services the Rev. Kurt Timmel of Appleton will give an address. The Appleton Citizens band will give a program during the afternoon. The Fond du Lac Maennerchor will give a special entertainment at Pierce park from 4 to 6 in the afternoon.

Invitations were sent out recently to 65 congregations of the state and it is expected that most of these churches will be represented in Appleton Sunday.

In case of rain, the committees in charge of the Saengerfest have made arrangements to hold the mass choir concert and the other services at Lawrence Memorial chapel and the ladies of the church will serve supper and dinner at the church.

INJUNCTION IS GRANTED FIRM

Cellucotton Products Co.
Wins Suit Against Eastern Company

A federal court injunction restraining The Hospital Specialty Co., a Delaware and Ohio corporation, from using the trademark "Kotex" or any name or mark ending in "kex" in a misleading imitation of "Kotex," the trademark of the Cellucotton Products Co., a branch of the Kimberly-Clark Co., has been granted in the suit brought by the latter in October 1925, for infringement of its trademark and patent rights.

The decree also restrains The Hospital Specialty Co. from selling any sanitary napkins in packages which are a misleading imitation of the Cellucotton company's package, and particularly in packages of the same size and shape as the Kotex package, and bearing an end label of the same size printed in white on a dark blue background.

Damages suffered by the Cellucotton company and the profits of The Hospital Specialty Co. resulting from the infringement, to be determined by the master in chancery of the court were awarded the Cellucotton company in the court decree. Costs of the court proceedings were assessed against the infringing company in the court decree.

Stop Losing Flesh And Grow Fat Quick

Says Hollows in Cheeks and Neck
Growing Deeper Every Week

Something Can Be Done for Skinny
Folks and Done Right Now—Today

Tens of thousands of thin run down men—yes and women too—are getting discouraged—are giving up all hope of ever being able to take on flesh and look healthy and strong.

All such people can stop worrying and start to smile and enjoy life right now for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets which any druggist will tell you about is putting flesh on the bones of skinny folks every day.

One woman tired weak and discouraged put on 15 pounds in five weeks and now feels fine.

We all know that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitalizing flesh producing vitamins but many people can't take it because of its horrible smell and fishy taste and because it often upsets the stomach.

McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets are as easy to take as candy and if any thin person don't gain at least 5 pounds in 30 days your druggist is authorized to give you your money back—and only 60 cents for 60 tablets. Ask Schlimz Bros. Co. Downer's Drug Store or any druggist. But be sure to get McCoy's, the original and genuine—and bear in mind that for thin sickly kids they are wonderful—very sickly child—age 9—gained 12 pounds in 7 months adv.

JANSEN, ZIEGENHAGEN TAKE OUT THEIR PAPERS

Nomination papers for the office of county treasurer on the Republican ticket were taken Wednesday from the office of John E. Hantschel, county clerk, by Anton Jansen, Little Chute. Papers for the same office also as a Republican candidate, were taken out Wednesday morning by Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, who will be a candidate for reelection in the September primary.

AUTO FOR EVERY 3 PEOPLE IN STATE

More Cars in Wisconsin Than in All Foreign Countries
but Three

As of May 31 of this year there had been registered by the secretary of state 558,282 motor vehicles of which 490,847 were automobiles and 67,335 trucks. This indicates that at the end of the calendar year Wisconsin will have 650,000 motor vehicles. The population of the state is 2,600,000, which means one car for every 3.1 people in Wisconsin according to F. A. Cannon, Executive Director of the Good Roads Association of Wisconsin who has been tabulating the figures and making comparisons.

Last year up to May 31 512,701 motor vehicles were registered. The state today has almost double the number of cars it had five years ago.

There are more motor vehicles in Wisconsin than in any country in the world except the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and France. The United Kingdom in 1925 had 922,000 motor vehicles, and France had 735,000. Practically one-third of the motor vehicles in the United Kingdom were trucks, and one-half of those in France Germany had 323,000 motor vehicles, and Italy 115,000.

Relative to population, however, Wisconsin's ownership tops any country in the world. The United Kingdom has one motor vehicle for every forty-nine people, France has one for every fifty-four people, Germany one for every 1,935 people and Italy one for every 2,642 people.

The above figures drive home convincingly the need of better roads, said Mr. Cannon. "Assuming each motor vehicle weighs one ton, we today have 650,000 tons of traffic pounding over our roads at a high rate of speed, and a traffic which was unknown years ago. We have doubled the traffic which we had five years ago. This year 50,000 more tons will be added to it."

Why worry about desert problems when ENZO JEL solves them? adv.

Newson, Indianapolis national president of threshermen.

AIRPLANES SERVE ALPINE HUTS
A new use for the airplane has been found in the Swiss Alps. There provisions are carried to the alpine huts in the Tyrol by dropping the cargo by means of parachutes, where no suitable plateau or glacier can be located for landing. The cost is about one third of the old method of provisioning these out-of-the-way places.

They call us hardboiled —but they smile

by G. J. SCHWAB, Mgr.

THERE'S a lot of fun to be had in this tire business, if you only know where to look for it.

We get a good bit of ours from certain friends who are persistent, though misguided.

These fellows will read some tire dealer's ad which offers something for nothing with a fan belt or some other gadget thrown in.

Then they'll come to see us and try to soft-talk us out of everything but our telephone number.

WHERE THE FUN COMES IN
These friends we refer to would not think of trying to buy a suit of clothes, or a pair of shoes, or any such merchandise on a haggle-and-dicker price basis.

Like the majority of sensible people, they prefer to buy goods of known reputation and quality at a fair price from a concern that has some standing in the community.

But when it comes to tires—why, they sink right back into the dark ages of trading and try to hang onto the wampum till the last minute.

We know what they're up to. And they know we know it. But they give the old game a whirl anyhow. It gets them nothing, and it does no harm.

IT'S TEMPTING, SOMETIMES
We suppose we could make more money temporarily, if we were to bait the old trap for these fellows.

You know how it's done. Stock a long-profit line of tires. Pad up the list price, and—oh, boy—"discount" and "long trade" 'em right out of their shoes.

But the trouble with that method is, eventually we would lose both their friendship and their patronage.

As it is now, when the idle conversation is all over, they go out happy and satisfied with our merchandise and its price.

THESE THINGS COUNT
You may think it's funny that price-talkers like these continue to do business with us, with our one-and-only plainly marked price. But it isn't funny. They know us.

Here's A Good Buy!
Until Saturday night, these special prices will be in effect:
32 x 4 CORD
33 x 4 CORD
34 x 4 CORD
30 x 4.95 BALLOON
30 x 5.25 BALLOON
31 x 5.25 BALLOON
$19

We've been selling tires in the Fox River Valley for 12 years, and our business has increased every year.

They know we sell Goodyear Tires, and they've learned by experience that Goodyears are the most dependable and lowest per-mile cost tires that money can buy.

They know, too, that if some other tire or some other policy would deliver them a bigger money's worth, we'd have that tire and that policy for them pronto.

AND EVERYBODY'S SATISFIED
So, as we say, they go on buying Goodyear Tires from us. They stall and haggle and peddle a lot of ambitious conversation. We peddle it right back.

We have lots of fun. And it always ends the same way. We finally dig into the biggest stock of tires in Appleton and drag out their particular size.

And when they go marching out with that fine, sturdy, brand-new Goodyear Tire, they shake their heads, and we hear them say:

"Ol' Gibson he's hardboiled." But they smile.

Francis Society

Kaukauna—The Rev. Father Buythaert of Wrightstown was crowned king of the semi-annual schut of St. Francis society of Hollandtown Tuesday by shooting off the last piece of a wooden bird which had been lodged on the top of a 100 foot pole. Father Buythaert was awarded a prize of $25 and the privilege of wearing the king's coat. Nick Finck was crowned king at the schut in 1925.

Eighteen marksmen competed in the shooting contest. They were Nick Finck, E. Vandeyicht, George Vandeyicht, John Handrich, George Vandeyicht, Frank Vandenberg, M. Van Hultsen, John Coppen, H. J. Pasch, Don Faust, William Van Lieshout, Theodore Gerrits, John Van Able, William Kempen, T. Vandenberg, Henry Van Hout, and Father Buythaert.

The celebration of the schut, which is held on St. Francis day, started with a mass at 9 o'clock at St. Francis church. The contestants then marched to the shooting grounds near the church led by the master of ceremonies, Town Constable Vandeloof of Hollandtown. After each man entered in the contest had taken a shot at the bird, William Van Lieshout of Kaukauna hit the bird on the left wing and knocked it off the pole. He was awarded a cash prize of $1.

Several hundred people attended the celebration. Dancing furnished entertainment throughout the afternoon and evening.

"EVE'S LEAVES" JOY

Hong-Hong Hong at all over Paris in the matter of creating fashions, according to Leatrice Joy. For heavy silk trousers, such as the Chinese girls wear in her latest starring picture, "Eve's Leaves," have made such a favorable impression on Leatrice that she predicts the adoption of feminine pants as everyday wear by women within a few years.

Miss Joy laughs at those who are alarmed at the present drift of women's fashions toward masculinity. "We are only getting back to normalcy," she declares in this attractive star.

The Chinese have been dressing their women in trousers for centuries, and their ancestors were civilized when ours were cliff-dwellers. We are just catching up with their idea that clothes are primarily for the comfort of the wearer. After wearing a boy's costume for two weeks I realize the advantage men have had over us for so long."

In "Eve's Leaves" which comes to the Fisher's Appleton theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Leatrice wears a pair of blue dungarees, a flannel shirt, and "sneakers"—a costume which is quite in harmony with her extreme boy-bob. William Boyd plays opposite the star, while Robert Edeson and Walter Long also have excellent roles. Elmer Harris wrote the adaptation for "Eve's Leaves" which was directed by Paul Sloane. Also vaudeville presentation and comedy.

STAGE TRAINING AIDS ASPIRING FILM STARS

That the years on the stage are a real help to actresses before they play before the camera is an admission that Edith Roberts, one of the screen's most beautiful young stars readily makes.

And Miss Roberts knows of what she speaks. For six years she appeared on the legitimate and vaudeville stages of this country, playing in big plays and one act sketches. Her dark, flashing eyes and finely chiseled features soon attracted motion picture producers and she was given a number of flattering offers. Miss Roberts' latest role is in "The New Champion," a Perfection picture which is released by Columbia Pictures. In this feature she is co-starred with William Fairbanks. The latter is well known to fans as the hero of rapid action thrillers.

In this release which comes to the New Bijou Friday and Saturday, Fairbanks has the role of a hard young fellow with realistic aspirations. Luck crosses his path when he chances across a famous fighter who takes an interest in him. A well known number of favorites have important supporting roles: Lloyd Whitlock, Lotus Thompson, Bert Appling, Frank Hagney, Marion Court and Al Kaufman. Reeves Eason directed.

GLITTERING COLORFUL PARIS IS LAUREL OF NEW AND VIVID EDWARD G. GOLDFELD FILM

Paris—glittering, colorful—and sometimes dramatic by the sheer sobriety of it, forms the background for one of the most vivid plays of the screen season, in Edward Goulding's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production "Paris," now playing at the Elite Theatre.

It is a tale told in lights and shadows in moods and in influences rather than by adherence to the usual device of plot. It shocks with its surprises, even in the nature of the roles played by well-known players, and one of it Goulding has evolved one of the most toothsome entertainments screen fans have been given in months.

Charles Ray proves the first surprise. The famous delineator of country boys proves that one cannot only take the boy out of the country—but also the country out of the boy—for he romps through the role of a debonair American tourist, a rich youth in Paris, a pleasure bent—who faces wild Apaches with a sang-froid that wins him victories without fighting for them—and on the other hand it takes Joan Crawford, well known beauty and player of win some American heroines—and transforms her into an exotic Apache girl of fiery temper and strange moods. And—both are perfect.

The story is a vivid mystery laid in the dens of the Apaches, with Ray, as an American tourist, enmeshed in a queer Apache feud, and falling in love with Miss Crawford, the Apache dancer.

He doesn't win the girl, however—and there in lies a dramatic and surprising climax with some very remarkable acting. The story incidentally, is Goulding's original, directed by himself.

Douglas Gilmore, famous in the stage in "White Cargo," also plays a role startlingly new to him as "The Cat," Paris underworld gang leader. Michael Vassaroff, Mme. Rose Dione, Jean Galeron and other well-known players are seen in well-chosen parts.

The scenic settings depicting sinister Paris underworld launts, famous pleasure places of tourists and Parisian atmosphere, are carried out on a lavish scale, and the types, representing "hangers-on" on the Paris underworld, are the last word in realism.

Best On Earth

"I had an ulcer on my ankle—had it 30 years and could not get it healed. For the last six years I had several doctors. I got one box of Peterson's Ointment and it almost healed it and it was entirely healed before I had used the second one. I don't think there is a better remedy on earth. Mrs. J. C. Hopper, 520 Sprague Street, Winston-Salem, N. C. 60 cents a large box at all druggists. Vogt's Drug Store reports a large and steady demand for Peterson's Ointment."

FISHERMAN LANDS 23 POUND NORTHERN PIKE

Waupaca—G. B. Galbraith landed a 23 pound Northern pike that measured 40 inches at Pine Lake, south of here on Wednesday morning. The specimen, which was displayed from the windows of a local store Wednesday, attracted much attention.

Local sportsmen are busy restocking the trout streams in this vicinity. Last week the Waupaca Fish and Game Protective association received 25,000 fry which were placed at different points. The shipment was received from the State Fish Hatchery at Wild Rose and all were the German Brown. Next week another shipment of Speckled Trout fry will be received from the State Hatchery at St. Croix Falls.

The Waupaca Golf club is flying a new flag from a 40 foot pole. Several parties contributed to make the donation complete. F. L. Hoarlin furnished the pole, other parties painted and erected it and the local post of the American gave the flag. Marriage licenses issued by County Clerk L. F. Shoemaker for the week ending June 8 were as follows: Emil G. Ziemann, Oshkosh, and Minna Fritz, Manawa; Arthur H. Pieper, Clintonville, and Mildred Voelker, Spencer; Lester Paulsen, Wisconsin Veterans Home, and Kate Phillips, Goodrich; Clarence N. Peterson, Clintonville, and Lula Ahrens, Bear Creek.

Carl C. Christensen, Manawa, and Leona Erdman, Manawa; Alfred Schumann, Mayville, and Alice Werner, New London, Alton Nels Howalt, Wisconsin Rapids, and Kitte Willett Jensen, Waupaca; Harold F. Peterson, Waupaca, and Jessie Rasmussen, Waupaca; Andrew J. Walter, Milwaukee, and Phyllis I. Irvine, Manawa.

Boy Scouts of the vicinity are making plans to celebrate the Fourth of July together. At a meeting held in the parlors of the Baptist church Monday night, representatives of various troups were present to discuss the proposition. Troops from Weyauwega, Iola, Waupaca and Crystal Lake will participate and it was decided to hold the celebration at Crystal Lake Sunday the Fourth the troops will assemble for religious service and then there that night and the following day hold contests of all kinds. Exhibitions of scout work is to be given and tests made for higher rating. As a result of the 4 to 1 victory of Waupaca over the Clintonville baseball team at Weyauwega, the local boys are leading the league. Next Sunday Waupaca plays Stevens Point at the Point, and as Clintonville has already defeated the Pointers the locals are expected to repeat. O. H. Brown is in Rhinelander this week on business. Mr. and Mrs. Rennie Duell and family left the city Sunday to tour the northern part of the state. They are expected to return the latter part of the week.

Joe Monroe who was employed here some time ago has moved his family to Milwaukee. Irene Boehm of Appleton was a Sunday visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kulkowski. Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Rasmussen and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rolland of this city visited Mrs. Hans Hanson at St. Mary hospital at Marshfield Sunday. Miss Jessie Rasmussen, who has been employed as clerk at the Wisconsin Telephone exchange office here has resigned her position, and Miss Mae Nelson has been engaged to take her place. Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Larson of Green Bay were guests of relatives here this Sunday. C. Krefen was in Milwaukee Tuesday on business. Grant Mason of Weyauwega was a city business caller Tuesday.

STATE WEDDINGS

BALKE VRANEY

Clintonville—Miss Helen Balke and Alvin Varney were married at Milwaukee on Friday. Miss Balke is well known here having been employed here for over a year. She has been employed at Milwaukee the past one and one-half years. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Balke of Embarrass. After a short honeymoon the young couple will be home at 846 N. Sixth-st. Manitowish where the groom is engaged in business with his father.

RASMUSSEN-PETERSON

Waupaca—On Wednesday afternoon the marriage of Jessie Rasmussen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rasmussen of Ogdensburg, and Harold Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Peterson of Belmont, was performed at the parsonage of the Holy Ghost church, with Rev. K. M. Mathieson officiating.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Marion Rasmussen of this city, and Clarence Peterson, a brother of the groom, acted as best man. Immediately after the ceremony the young people left on a short honeymoon tour in the southern part of the state. Upon their return they will reside on South Division-st in this city. Mrs. Peterson is a graduate of Waupaca high school and was for a time employed as cashier with the Wisconsin Telephone company. The groom is a business man, associated in the real estate business with C. J. Miller.

WILL CLEAN AND REPAIR SCHOOLS DURING SUMMER

Building and Grounds Committee Is Authorized to Undertake Work

Authority to proceed with the necessary repairs and cleaning at the junior and senior high schools was given the buildings and grounds committee of the board of education at the regular monthly meeting of the board Wednesday afternoon at Lincoln school. These repairs will include beautifying the grounds at McKinley and Wilson junior high schools, repainting and cleaning furniture in all of the schools and other necessary repairs, and purchasing of miscellaneous equipment.

Monthly reports of the secretary were read and adopted. William Beckley, of La Crosse, was engaged by the board to fill the position as physical director at Roosevelt school. Other teachers hired at this time were: Adam Hutchinson, Ripon college, English and debate at the high school; Paul Little, Ripon college, history and assistant athletic coach of the high school; Miss Edith Yaeger of Ashland, physical director of girls of senior high school; Miss Elizabeth Allen, teacher of English at Roosevelt high school; Margaret O'Leary, former English teacher, librarian of Roosevelt high school; Miss Sarah Bell Beardmore, Waterloo, in Miss Ruth Lon's place, Miss Lon having been given a year's leave of absence; Melville Wright, physical education at McKinley high school and assistant manual training at Wilson school.

Miss Elsie Koppin was engaged to teach Latin in both junior high schools and Miss Anna Bese will take Miss Laura Reier's place in the office at Lincoln school. Miss Dorothy Douglas has been engaged to manage the mimeograph department, which is to be added to the present offices.

Complimentary copies of "The Clarion," the high school annual, were distributed to members of the board by H. H. Helble, principal of the high school. Mr. Helble told the board that it had cost $2,000 to publish the annual this year and that in addition to paying this amount the school had paid $1,000 on a debt of $250 which was left from last year. He said that the balance of this debt would be paid next year.

Mr. Helble called attention to the art work in the annual which was done by Daryl Myse, editor of the publication. He also pointed out several ways in which the staff had saved money in publishing the book this year.

The violin school was granted the use of the auditorium of the senior high school for a recital of the pupils of the school.

The board voted to send J. G. Pfeil, truant officer to Sheboygan to study the system used there and to make a study of the system used in keeping census records. The board also voted to send Miss Carrie Moran to La Crosse to study the system used there in keeping minutes of school board meetings and records of supplies.

The board authorized the teachers and text committee to hire teachers without waiting the board's sanction. They also voted to pay 50 per cent of the cost of a new set of tires for Superintendent Ben Rohan's automobile in addition to the $25 per month now allowed for expenses.

LOAN ASSOCIATION DECLARES DIVIDEND

A semi-annual dividend totalling approximately $20,000 was declared at a meeting of Appleton Building and Loan association directors Wednesday evening in the office of George H. Beckley, secretary. Plans for the convention of the Wisconsin State Building and Loan league here on June 14 and 15 were discussed. About 100 reservations from officers of the state already have been received by Mr. Beckley.

GROCCERS DROP BUSINESS FOR ANNUAL PICNIC

More Than 150 Wholesale and Retail Grocers Attend Outing

More than 150 men from the valley were present at the wholesale and retail grocers picnic at Sherwood Forest resort at Green Lake Wednesday. The group started from Appleton at 8 o'clock. As they passed through various cities along the way they stopped for several minutes and the 120th Field Artillery band which accompanied the picnicers played one selection. Grocers who attended the picnic were from Appleton, Little Chute, Kimberly, Kaukauna, Neenah and Menasha. Approximately 30 cars were in the motorcade which carried the men to the grounds. The cars were decorated with streamers and banners.

The feature of the day was the baseball game between the retailers and the wholesalers and although the accurate score is not known the retailers walked off with all honors (according to information given out by the retailers) and with several would be "Babe Ruths" "Walter Johnsons" and "Ty Cobbs" hidden in their line up they sprang a surprise on the wholesalers and capped the pennant. William Radder of Kaukauna, the representative of that city in the fair man's race, showed what speed meant, slipped ahead of Peter Traas of Appleton on the last lap and fell across the tape to win first place. Other members of the party engaged in playing "barnyard golf," three legged races, sack races, and tug of war. It also was rumored that several three round boxing matches were held but no official information could be obtained either on the results or the participants. It is said that two prominent Appleton grocers were concealing darkened optics Thursday morning.

The grocers were taken for a ride around Green Lake at 4 o'clock and at 5 o'clock supper was served at the hotel. Following the supper a "kangaroo court" was held with H. J. Ingold of the Shannon company acting as judge. Several of the grocers were given long jail sentences for "disorderly conduct" but on the plea of the defendant's attorney these sentences were later computed to parole. Some of the grocers paid fines for "speeding" and "over-eating." It was said that William Radder was one of those who received a heavy fine for "speeding." A late investigation showed that the money collected in court was used to pay the judge and witnesses.

The party returned home about midnight—"tired but happy."

Jews Building Prosperous Nation Out Of Palestine

That they have done so much is all the more remarkable in that they got away to an unfavorable start. The peacemakers who launched the experiment at the World War's end were accused of doing it in payment to certain Jewish financiers help rendered to the victorious powers—payments made, so the critics said, in ruthless defiance of the rights of the Arabs in Palestine.

It was an experiment, too, which was very generally laughed at as impractical and more than doubtful was expressed that any considerable number of Jews would accept the invitation to return to the land of their origin.

They did begin to return however.

RELEASE INJURED MAN FROM HOSPITAL

R. Waldo, 314, S. Meade-st. returned home from St. Elizabeth hospital Wednesday after spending about two months there with a fractured leg. He will be confined to his home for several weeks, although he will be able to get about with crutches.

He was injured while playing football with a group of boys in the neighborhood of his home.

Dinner was served to members of the party at the main dining room of the hotel at Green lake at 11 o'clock. Various refreshments were served during the afternoon.

The grocers were taken for a ride around Green Lake at 4 o'clock and at 5 o'clock supper was served at the hotel. Following the supper a "kangaroo court" was held with H. J. SHORT CHANGE ARTIST SENTENCED TO PRISON

William Welch, alias William Howard, alias William Hurd, who recently completed a seven-months term at Manitowoc for his work as a "short change artist," has been sentenced to a seven-year term in the South Dakota state penitentiary upon his conviction for having a part in a bank robbery at Fort Pierre, last October.

Welch was a member of a gang of bandits who held up a bank at Fort Pierre, where they obtained loot amounting to $20,000. Part of the money was recovered by officers, however, and actual cash held by the bandits amounted to only $1,300.

Edward Welch, alias Edward Doyle, alias James L. Day, alias Sheldon Red, a brother of "Bill" Welch, was arrested here by Appleton police on April 23, at the request of Manitowoc authorities, after his escape from the Manitowoc jail. He was returned to Farland, Iowa, where he was wanted for robbery of a bank.

Council Empowers City Attorney to Safeguard Price's Money

Menasha—At the special meeting of the common council Wednesday evening, called by Mayor N. G. Remmel, preliminary steps were taken for the appointment of a guardian for Alex. Price, city charge, who has just come into possession of approximately $1,000 after paying his attorney fees and other expenses connected with the action for damages which he brought against Mrs. W. P. McGraw of Menasha and E. W. Cooney of Appleton in circuit court of Outagamie co.

In explaining the purpose of the meeting, Mayor Remmel said that Price had been returned to the county poor farm since the trial at the city's expense and that if the money was left in his possession it would be squandered. Judging from his past record, and he recommended the passage of a resolution empowering the city attorney to take immediate steps to safeguard it. The resolution was unanimously passed.

TWO CARS COLLIDE IN FRONT OF HOSTELRY

Lawrence College Faculty Man Talks on How Can I Find Happiness

Neenah—How Can I Find Happiness was the subject of a talk given Wednesday evening at Saxe Neenah theatre by Prof. A. L. Franzke of Lawrence college before the class of 1926 at its annual commencement exercises.

"This is the universal question, asked a thousand times with an attempt in quest for the goal of happiness," the speaker said. "The consciousness of being useful is one big factor in attaining happiness. Is there no charge so bad that we have been of no use to others or to our fellow men? To be happy we must live, think and act for the benefit of those around us. We must act in harmony, our acts must so fit in that the machine will run smoothly when completed. What determines usefulness of anything?" the speaker asked. "This is determined by the demand, the great progress and to fashion our lives to meet these."

He reviewed the problems to be accomplished before happiness can be gained. He cited the world's unrest, the hints of another war, and all things which arise to make people dissatisfied and discouraged.

He complimented the class of 1926 for graduating, an achievement which is harder now than in the past, as the progress of time is creating harder things, methods are more advanced, everything is harder than they were for preceding classes. He urged the boys and girls to continue their learning, and recommended a college or university education in order to attain the degree which is most essential in securing positions of merit.

He spoke of the 'middle life' which the pupils are now entering, the philosophy of life which shows that they have had some thought within the last few days what the future would bring. "They have just begun to realize that their high school days are over. They are attempting to pierce the thin veil which is hiding the great beyond and asking the question 'how can I find happiness in the time which is to come and in what way can I bring this happiness to my fellow men?'"

The talk followed the invocation given by the Rev. I. E. Schlagenhauf of the Methodist church. The salutation was given by Beatrice Haase who took occasion to thank the teachers, the board of education, and the parents and citizens of Neenah for giving them the place and chance to learn. The speaker urged that the class continue step by step to secure higher education.

Miss Ruth Backus, as valedictorian, took the life of President Coolidge as an example of attaining his position in life by steady steps from a small farm to the White House.

In presenting diplomas to the 61 young people of the class, C. F. Hedges gave out words of encouragement and good cheer for the future of the class. He reviewed the class history from the time the 125 youngsters entered high school up to the present. Some had dropped out to go to work, some had gone to other cities and schools and some had to hesitate in their studies on account of illness. "But I must say in closing that this class, while not the largest to graduate from the Neenah high school, is the best class to graduate—this year."

The musical part of the program was furnished by the high school orchestra under direction of Melvin Schneider of Appleton and the boys' double quartet under direction of Miss Florence Gosselin.

The theatre was filled to capacity for the exercises, which is the last of the program outside of the annual banquet on Friday evening by the Alumni association to the class of 1926 at Valley Inn. This will be followed by a dance.

MRS. JOHN BRZYCKI
Menasha—Mrs. John Brzycki, 19, died Wednesday at her home, 637 Racine-st., after a several weeks illness. She was born in Menasha and lived here all her life. She is survived by her widowed parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sokolowsky, brother, Clement; and two sisters, Florence and Edna. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday morning at St. John church. The services will be conducted by the Rev. W. B. Polaczky.

ALBERT A. COOK

Neenah—Albert A. Cook, 92, a resident of town of Clayton for the last 65 years, died at 5:30 Thursday morning at Theda Clark hospital where he had been taken last Friday for treatment. He was born in Connecticut, Nov. 1, 1834, coming west when he was 26 years of age and settling on the farm in Clayton which was still his home a time of his death. Mr. Cook joined the Kane Lodge Masons and the Chapter Royal Arch Masons in 1882 and at the time of his death was the oldest member of the lodge in Winnebago county. He was always a sturdy life, up to a few months ago when his advanced age began to give evidence of the breaking down of the system, which resulted in his death. Four sons survive. Rueben Cook of the old homestead in town of Clayton; John, William and Askel Cook of Neenah. There also are nine grandchildren. The funeral will be held from the homestead on route 11, Clayton, and will be in charge of the Masonic lodge.

AWARD INJUNCTION TO CELLUCOTTON COMPANY

Neenah—The Cellucotton Products company of Neenah, makers of Korotev, has won a decree of injunction in the United States court in Cleveland, O. The decision followed action for alleged infringement of the company's trade mark and trade name and the judge held that the Cellucotton company's trade mark was good and valid in law, that its patent office registration was valid and that the plaintiff is the exclusive owner of all rights pertaining to such registration. It was ruled that the Hospital Specialty company, incorporated in Delaware and Ohio, had infringed on the plaintiff's rights in a manner constituting unfair competition in trade. An injunction was issued to stop further infringement and the plaintiff was ordered to recover from the defendants the costs of the suit up to the time of the court ruling.

NEIGHBORS' WIVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JOHN and FAY MILBURN, to whom a baby girl has just been born, think they are justified in buying a home of their own when the young advertising agency in which John is a partner lands an important new contract.

John does all the firm's advertising copy writing. His partner takes care of the business details.

Previous chapters told how John, while Fay was in the hospital, met NELL ORME at a swimming party and was attracted by her beauty and puzzled when PAT FORBES, his host, told him Nell was having trouble with her husband Forbes, who has a wife and three children, hints to John that he is dissatisfied with his own marriage.

Shortly after the Milburns settle in their new home they give a housewarming and PAUL DAVIDSON, a bachelor lawyer who is also something of an amateur actor, precipitates an argument by declaring marriage is a barbarous institution.

One of Fay's neighbors, a Mrs. BLODGETT, tells Fay that she is an old snoot. Her baby, JUDITH, passes through a siege of whooping cough and John's best friend, DR. DICK MENEFFEE, treats her. Meneffee is engaged to MARGARET WYANE and the wedding is set for October 15. Margaret's sister, CLARA, gives a party in honor of her own fiancé, CLIFTON LANE, whom John instantly dislikes. He speaks highly of his brokerage business and his golf, but John thinks he is a fourflusher, and tells Fay.

GO ON WITH THE STORY!
(The names and situations in this story are fictitious.)

CHAPTER XIV
The wedding of Margaret Wayne and Dick Meneffee had been set for October 15. Two weeks before, while he Wayne household was in the midst of half hysterical preparation, Clara Wayne and Clifton Lane ran off and got married.

Fay and John were in the middle of a discussion concerning raising the pay of the girl they had come to take care of Judith when the door opened and the phone rang and Dick Meneffee's voice broke the news to John.

John said the first thing that popped into his mind. "What a cheap, theatrical trick—but you can't let it make any difference to ours and Margaret's plans, will you, Dick?"

"Not a chance," said Meneffee grimly. "We're going right ahead with them. Clara said in her telegram that she would be back to be Margaret's maid of honor. Matron of honor now, I guess," and he laughed.

"In Milwaukee, Lanes home town she took a train and met him up here, and they left on a motor trip." John hung up the receiver and met Fay's questioning eyes.

"Clara and Lane ran off together and got married," he announced, and Fay, after exclaiming once, was stricken wordless with surprise.

"I told you," he continued. "I didn't like that guy Lane. Now I like him even less, if that's possible." "But Margaret!" gasped Fay.

"Think of the awful thing Clara has done to her!"

"Refusing to let her older sister get married first, after all the plans had been made. It's the most selfish thing I ever heard of."

"Oh, well," said John, "trying to justify Clara somehow. 'Maybe Clara didn't look at it just that way. Maybe she's just nutty about this guy Lane and snapped him up when he proposed an elopement.'"

"Nothing of the kind," said Fay sharply. "You can't tell me that Clara hasn't had this planned for a long time. My! I feel so sorry for Margaret. I don't know what to do."

"Well, she won't need your sympathy. She's marrying Dick Meneffee, and the wedding's only two weeks off. That ought to make her happy enough."

"Oh, you mean?" exclaimed Fay impatiently. "You will never understand."

"I admit," said John, a little nettled, "that the workings of the feminine mind sometimes are a little bit beyond me. I guess I don't understand. To me it looks as if Lane and Clara were trying to grab off the spotlight for a while, but their elopement will be a thing of the past soon as Margaret's wedding will be the main issue. Besides, by eloping they won't get as many presents as they would have if they had waited."

"Oh, you make me tired," snapped Fay. "This thing was Clara's doing all the way through. Imagine—marrying ahead of her older sister that way!"

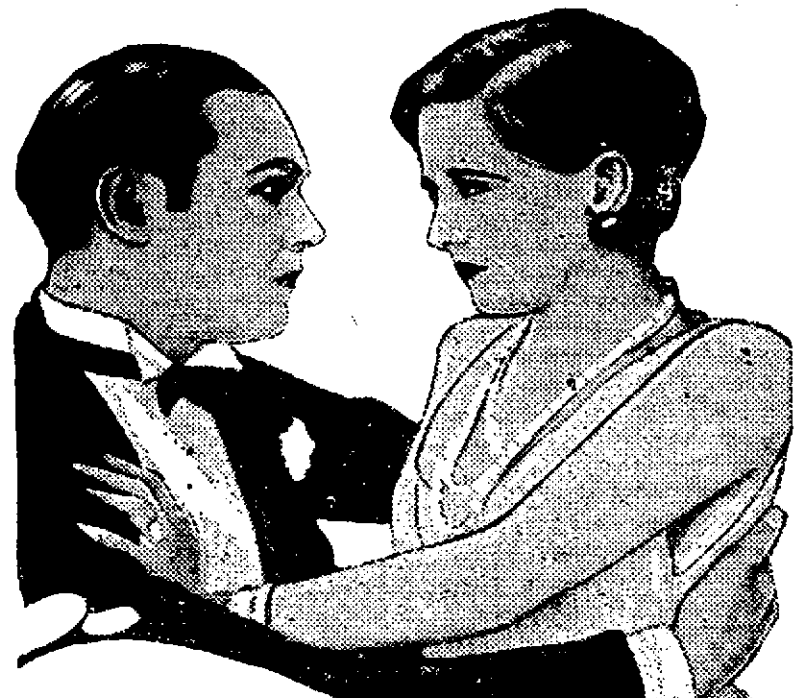

John retreated to his book. Four days before the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Lane returned to Appleton, were forgiven by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne and Margaret, and immediately threw themselves into the preparations for Margaret's wedding, as if in atonement for their sins.

There was a dress rehearsal the afternoon of the 14th, and John had a step through his paces as Dick's best man. He chanced to overhear a remark to Dick from Clifton Lane, and only a quick realization of how wrong it would be prevented him from making an angry retort.

"Dick," Lane had said, either not knowing or not caring that John was around, "it seems to me that you might have asked me to be best man. Keep it all in the family, you know. I standing up for you, you know, and Clara for Margaret."

John, standing behind a hanging hat separated living rooms from reception hall reddened angrily at the drawing voice.

But Dick answered Lane shortly.

CHARLES RAY and JOAN CRAWFORD in "PARIS" SHOWING AT THE ELITE TO-DAY AND TOMMORROW.

From downstairs came the peal of an organ, and Dick started violently. "There, there, now, Dick," said John. "Take it steady, old man." John had thought, and still was thinking as he took his place beside Dick at the flower banked altar, that the Waynes had gone in for a little more trimmings than he thought necessary. He felt a little stiff in his dress suit; his collar was pinching him and he could feel the sweat rolling down his forehead and nose.

The organ, he thought, was very nice and all that, but it did seem rather foolish to hire one for the occasion when the piano would have done. And then the matter of flowers—potted palms and strange white blooms—and—crowning touch!—the ring bearer!

The ring bearer, he felt, was the last word in non-essentials. A little boy in white silk bearing a white satin pillow on which reposed Margaret's wedding ring. Still, thought John, a woman only marries once—at least once in all she has in mind when she first tries it.

Mr. Wayne came in, with Margaret on his arm. The Ceremony started. An awed hush fell on the assemblage.

The minister's voice began to drone—unimpressively. To John it sounded far away, and he strained forward to catch his cue when it should come.

He heard the minister ask who gave Margaret away in marriage and heard her father's voice answer—a little huskily.

The minister's voice droned on. The little white-clad page had come down the aisle and taken his place at the altar. John, looking at the little fellow closely, felt a swift surge of pity for the youngster. He looked so downright scared and friendless that John felt for all the world like fishing in his pocket and pulling out a quarter for him.

The little fellow stood gravely at his post, with hot red cheeks. The pillow rocked a little in his unsteady hands.

Then John heard his cue. Gravely but with a manner that was intended to communicate some of his nonchalance to Dick, he stepped over and reached out his thumb and finger for the ring.

Just what happened he never could explain, but he felt the pillow slip beneath his fingers, and the ring slid out of his grasp and fell to the floor.

He felt suddenly hot and ashamed, but he was quick as lightning to stoop and recover the ring.

As he raised his head he encountered Clifton Lane's look, and on the other's face was a contemptuous sneer.

SPEND IMMENSE SUM FOR OHIO RIVER PROJECT

Will Take Three More Years to Make Stream Navigable from Pittsburg to Cairo, Ill.

Louisville—(P)—Uncle Sam's $100,000,000 project to make the Ohio river navigable the year round from Pittsburg to Cairo, Ill., where it empties into the Mississippi river, is within three years of completion.

The last lock and dam will be in place and the last bit of dredging finished by 1929, said the United States district engineer here. The plan was authorized by the Rivers and Harbors Act of 1910, although local improvements had been made at various times since 1879, when the first lock and dam was built near the head of the river.

When finished, the project will consist of fifty locks and dams, placed at intervals over a distance of 988.5 miles. The river then will have a minimum depth of nine feet, which compared with a former depth of one foot, where it ran over shoals.

The Ohio is expected to become a chief artery of commerce and communication when the work has been completed. Figures for tonnage handled by boats operating on the river last year show an increase of fifty per cent over those of 1924. In 1925, shipments totalled 15,737,015 tons, against 10,866,638 tons for 1924. The district engineer pointed out that part of the increase was due to an improved method of checking shipments but that the average would fall between thirty and forty percent.

Sand and gravel tonnage topped the list, with coal second. There was a marked increase in oil and gasoline shipments. While the project is concerned principally with improvement of the river and its tributaries, river transportation men declare that the country as a whole will benefit in the cheaper transportation to be afforded.

With the exception of raising the dam at Louisville, work has been completed from Pittsburg to the latter point. This has made all year navigation possible, except during extreme cold weather. Below Louisville, three dams have been finished, one will be completed this year, another in 1927 and the remainder by 1929. The project originally contemplated fifty-four locks and dams, but two above and below Louisville have been eliminated.

There have been great changes on the river. Many landings prominent in the days of the frontier have disappeared. Those settlements at landings that remain have in many instances grown to prosperous cities. The roughest about that once sang melodies peculiar to the river have virtually disappeared.

At present shipments over the Ohio to the gulf are irregular, due to the uncertainty of river stages. No transportation company is operating boats on schedule over the entire route.

MILLINERS FEATURE SPANISH FASHIONS

London—(P)—A feature of fashion in spring millinery is a change from the close fitting toque to higher crowns and wide flat brims, typical of Spanish styles.

Many fashionable women are cultivating the "Spanish" mode in their dress and have adopted a similar style for hats. This allows for the wearing of ever popular black velvet with a scarlet bow or rose on the brim.

For summer or hot weather wear, the Carmen hat is being shown made in shiny black manilla straw also with a brilliant red rose on or just under the brim.

ABERFOYLE FABRICS for tiny frocks

because they wash and wear and are so charming

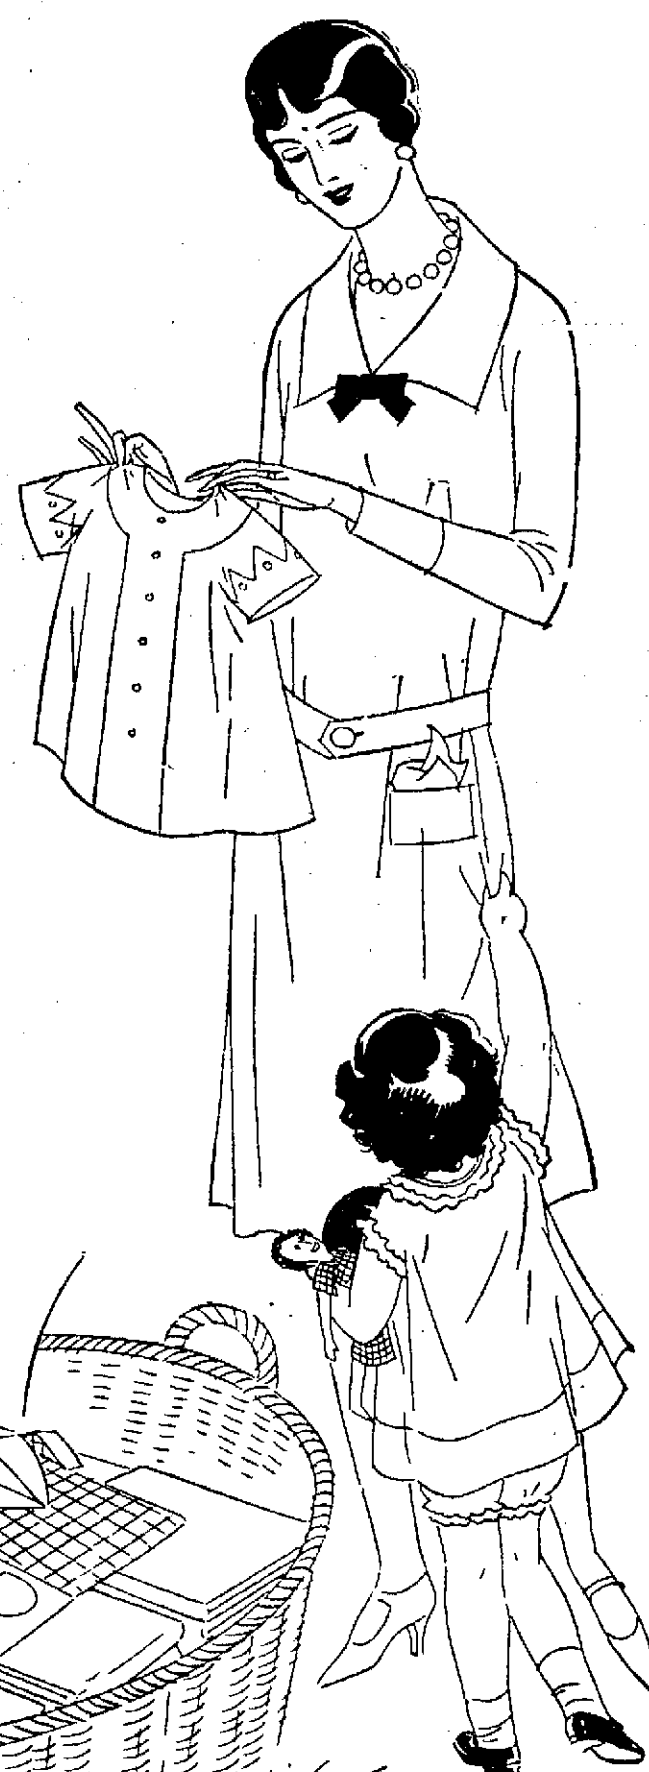

WHEN tiny frocks are made from Aberfoyle materials, it makes no difference if mudpies do play havoc with clean dresses—for all Aberfoyle Fabrics can be washed and rewashed.

None of their dainty freshness, their soft coloring, which makes them so attractive for children's clothes, is ever washed away.

Figured cottons that make excellent play-clothes, dainty tissues, sheer combinations of cotton and rayon for party dresses—all are guaranteed fast to sun and washing.

No Aberfoyle Fabric leaves the mills until it has first been laundered. Each piece is thrown into huge tubs and thoroughly washed with soap in warm water. So, each charming fabric you admire at the counter has been thoroughly laundered before you see it.

The name Aberfoyle—stamped on the ends of the boards that carry the material—stands for forty years of experience in fabric-making, for the finest of materials and dyes. Make sure you look for that name before you buy. Aberfoyle Fabrics, the products of the Aberfoyle Manufacturing Company, are sold by better-class retailers and department stores everywhere

LETTER WRITTEN BY JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT TO PAULA PERIER, BUT NOT SENT

I am going to write you a letter, my dear Paula, and confess myself an ardent admirer. I expect you have known this for many years but it is only within the last week or two that I really knew myself to be a coward.

One goes on sometimes for all one's life not knowing what one really is. But then, to some of us, an instant comes when one really sees eternity and when he finds out that all his years have been a living lie.

This that I have just written is the excuse I must give for writing you at all. I want to ask you a great favor. I want you, Paula, to persuade your producers to give up that sequence from "Hot Steel" that they are going to take at the mill. I will personally reimburse them for all they have paid out and all the loss they have sustained in the picture.

In fact I am willing to pay almost anything if they will just drop the whole matter.

Please, Paula, do not think I am silly. But I've had a long time to think since that accident occurred at the mill just two weeks ago. I have died a hundred deaths since then, for I saw so many things in that instant when you pulled me back from a certain and horrible death.

First, I knew that you still loved me, for no one would have put herself in a position where there were ten chances to one that she was going straight to death, would have done what you did for me, unless she thought the world would be a howling wilderness without the one she was trying to save.

This I know sounds rather ego-maniacal, but it is not so much so, dear, when I tell you that at the same instant I knew you were the one woman who had stayed in my heart, while others—yes, all others—have come and gone.

Paula, I did not intend to write you this when I commenced this letter, but, having written it, I am going to let it stand.

I do not feel that I am wronging Leslie, for I have always known that she was too good for me. She should have married a man like Karl Whitney, and I—well, my dear—if you would have had me, I should have married you.

I love Leslie in quite a different way than the love I have for you. I know she is one of God's good women and she has made sacrifices for unworthy me that I believe no other woman on earth would have made for any man, much less a disreputable being like me. She holds a place in my heart that cannot be given to any other woman, not even to you.

(Good God, what am I writing? I cannot send this letter like this—) (Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

Adventures Of The Twins

The Kiwi and the Cock-Chaffer
"I do wish," said Nancy, "that we could find the door to Mister Snoopey's cave."
"So do I," shivered the little Whiff, who had lost his shadow.

But whatever else he was going to say will never be known. For they had come upon a most peculiar couple who were having a most peculiar conversation. The peculiar couple consisted of a cock-chaffer and a kiwi bird. The peculiar conversation consisted of the following remarks:

"Such big feet," the cock-chaffer was saying. "I never saw such big feet on a person your size. And for tail, too, hee, hee. Why, you haven't a hair—I mean a feather."
"Have a care, you little shrimp," retorted the kiwi bird. "My tail bothers me not. I do not miss it because I do not eat with it. As for my feet, I dote on them. In Kiwi Land it is not fine feathers, but large feet that make the fine birds. Now I wish to sleep. Begone. But come back at a quarter to twelve—for lunch!"

"To lunch or for lunch," said the cock-chaffer.

"For lunch," said the kiwi bird, shutting his eyes and dropping on to sleep as kiwi birds do.

But suddenly he opened his eyes again and looked at the cock-chaffer sharply. "What's that?" he demanded.

The cock-chaffer jumped about a yard. "Nothing," he chirped. "I didn't say a thing."

"But you were thinking," said the kiwi bird. "I distinctly had a shock and it wasn't a pleasant shock like you get when you open your bureau drawer and find a box of candy you had forgotten about. I had a shock like you get when you put salt on your berries instead of powdered sugar. Now out with it! What were you thinking?"

"Well, then," said the little black beetle with the white velvet spots. "I was thinking that your nose was entirely too long. What time did you say lunch was?"

"It will be right now," said the kiwi bird. "If you don't stop making remarks about my personal appearance."

"Catch me if you can! Catch me if you can!" shouted the cock-chaffer rudely, backing away out of reach of the kiwi bird's long bill.

"Oh I can catch you all right," said the kiwi bird. "Only I don't dine until a quarter to twelve. It will be time enough then."

So the kiwi bird closed his eyes again and went to sleep.

"He's afraid! He's afraid! He's afraid!" shouted the cock-chaffer, dancing around on his short bowlegs. "He's afraid to touch me for fear I might pinch him!"

"Say," said Nick, for the Twins and the Whiff had seen and heard the whole thing. "You'd better be careful and not get so saucy. Kiwis eat cock-chaffers, you know."

"Perhaps," said the cock-chaffer. "But I'm the world's original digger. I can disappear in the ground before you can wink your eye." Which he did. And of course everything looked as safe as a bank for Mister Cock-Chaffer.

But just then the kiwi bird woke up. "It's a quarter to twelve. I can tell by my appetite," he said suddenly. And with that he stuck his long lead-pencil in a peak quite twelve inches down the ground and pulled up Mister Cock-Chaffer and ate him.

"Handsome as handsome does," said he. Then he went to sleep again before the Twins could ask him a single thing.

SELMA LEGEROF COMPARED WITH ANCIENT BARDS

Famous Swedish Writer and Nobel Prize Winner Pens Strange Norse Sagas

Stockholm. —(AP)—Selma Lagerof came out to the dark silent forests of the North as a little girl who loved to tell stories and she grew up to be one of Sweden's greatest woman writers, a weaver of sagas like the old Norse bards of a thousand years ago.

Her books, fired with wild and moving scenes from Swedish life, started a new school of writing and have brought her to the forefront of Swedish femininity. Honors and marks of esteem have come to her during thirty-five years of study and work, among them being the Nobel prize for literature membership in the Swedish Academy and honorary degrees from several universities.

Mme. Lagerof was the first woman elected to membership in the Swedish academy.

Born in 1858 at Marbacka farm in Vermland, a northwest province where the tradition and folklore of her people survives to an extent unknown elsewhere in the land, she spent her childhood in country surroundings. A delicate child, she could not play with other children as much as she would have cared to, but was left to herself. In this way she found her greatest interest in books and stories. Soon she began to tell stories of her own and to write little novels of the life around her.

Like many girls she left her country home to become a school teacher. After attending the Royal Women's Superior Training College in Stockholm, she taught in the girls' high school at Landsrona, continuing her studies and her writing.

The noted writer's public career began in 1880 when she won a literary prize offered by a weekly journal. The book was a great success, being translated into twelve languages.

When she published "Invisible Links" in 1894, proving a ripening literary talent, King Oscar II, himself a man of letters, recognized her genius and made arrangements that enabled her to devote herself entirely to writing. She traveled widely and novels, stories and essays came from her pen. On the occasion of her sixtieth birthday, in 1923, Carl August Bolander, the Swedish critic and author, paid this tribute:

"However grey her hair has turned, her tales and stories will remain as young as ever. No titles need be mentioned; we know them all for they have become the property of the nation and of the world."

Her "In Jerusalem" is considered the greatest of Sweden's modern literature.

NOTED JAP BASEBALL HEAD RESIGNS POST

Tokyo. —(AP)—Prof. I. Abe, known as the "father of baseball" in Japan, after more than thirty years spent on the faculty of Waseda University and in promoting America's national game throughout the Empire, has retired from all athletic activities. His place as head of the Waseda Baseball Association has been taken by Prof. Takizo Takasugi.

It was while completing his education at Hartford College, Conn., that Prof. Abe first was bitten by the baseball germ. When he returned to Japan, and was appointed instructor of English and social science at Waseda, he began a campaign to popularize baseball. At that time there were few baseballs and bats in Japan. Prof. Abe brought some from the United States and it was but a short time until the students were "hitting" em out to each other after school hours. He continued his propaganda work and soon the students of other schools were organizing teams.

LEFT to right: Mrs. Sarah Tyson Rorer, Miss Rosa Micktelis, Mrs. Belle DeGraf, Mrs. Kate B. Vaughn, Miss Lucy G. Allen, and Miss Margaret Allen Hall.

"If men did the cooking they would insist on a good stove"

Where is the woman who does not agree with Mrs. Rorer's statement? Yet why will so many women put up with an inefficient stove day after day?

MRS. RORER, famous Philadelphia cooking expert, and five other famous cooks who recently conducted a practical test of the Perfection Stove, agree that good cooking results depend to a great extent on a good stove. They agree, too, after critical, exhaustive cooking tests that the Perfection is a mighty good stove. Their comments on the Perfection's performance will give you some idea of what men would demand, and what experts do demand of a stove.

Easy operation. "I like equipment which is easy to work with," said Mrs. Belle DeGraf, San Francisco, home economics counsellor. "And the Perfection certainly is. It lights at the touch of a match. And the heat is regulated by a simple turn of the wick."

Adaptable, too. "The Perfection proved its adaptability to me," commented Mrs. Kate B. Vaughn, Los Angeles, home economics director, "by performing many cooking operations at the same time—frying, baking, boiling, and broiling."

Ample heat supply. "And," said Miss Rosa Michaelis, famous New Orleans specialist, "there is no lessening of heat, regardless of how many burners are lighted. Each is an independent unit."

Dependable flames. "That's true," remarked Miss Lucy G. Allen, of the Boston School of Cookery. "And the flames stay just as you set them. They do not creep."

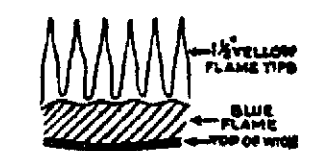

And clean. "There's no soot or odor, either, when you cook on the Perfection," added Mrs. Rorer. "The efficient long chimneys burn the oil completely before the heat reaches the utensils."

Safe and economical. "All these points recommend the Perfection," said Miss Margaret A. Hall, Battle Creek College of Home Economics. "And, in addition, it is safe and economical in operation. What more could anyone ask of a stove?"

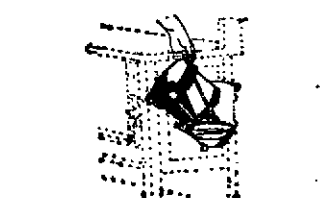

In other words, the Perfection meets the high standards of the six critical cooks. It will meet yours, too. See the 1926 Perfections at any dealer's. All sizes from a one-burner model at $7.25 to a five-burner range at $130.00. Every woman who cooks deserves a good stove.

LA CROSSE NORMAL MAN IS COACH AT ROOSEVELT

SUCCEEDS OLE JORGENSEN, NEW NEENAH MENTOR

Sport Head at McKinley High and Assistant at Senior School Also Appointed

William Pickett, a graduate of La-Crosse Normal school with the class of 1926, was chosen to succeed Ole Jorgensen, Neenah, as coach and director of physical education at Roosevelt junior high school at a meeting of the board of education Wednesday afternoon. Melville Weiss was chosen to the same position at McKinley school which had no special athletic coach the last year and Paul Little, Ripon college graduate, was chosen assistant coach at the senior high school. His duties will be to assist the head coach with the various teams and take charge of gymnasium work. A head coach at the senior school, to succeed John T. "Mac" McAuliffe, former Beloit star, who resigned to study medicine at Rush, has not yet been appointed though several applicants are being investigated. Coach Jorgensen resigned his position at Roosevelt school to accept the coaching job at Neenah high school, his alma mater, a position left vacant when George "Nig" Christoph, another Neenah high grad, took the job as the first freshman coach at Lawrence college where he was a star athlete. Jorgensen was a star all around athlete at Neenah high winning letters in basketball, football and track. At La-Crosse Normal school, his next stop, he did the same starring especially on the courts and as a jumper and vaulter on the track team. He captained the cage squad as a senior and was one of the high point men of the normal school conference both that year and the preceding year. In one game against Milwaukee Normal, Ole scored 10 baskets and added a few free throws. At Roosevelt high his first year out of Normal he turned out fine teams losing the football title to Wilson high by a touchdown and winning the cage title. He also starred in pro basketball with an Appleton team and the Green Bay city team. While Mr. Pickett has not been prominent in athletics at the normal, he comes highly recommended for his new job. He is a graduate of the school's fine physical education teaching course, and a leader in the school council beside being in charge of all intermural athletics at the school. At Wilson school, Bernard Flebe, another La-Crosse Normal man, again will return as sport mentor.

KIMBERLY MEN BATTLE OSHKOSH NINE SUNDAY

Kimberly—Kimberly meets the fast traveling Oshkosh squad Sunday at Kimberly park, and local fans expect to see the Noelmen knocked out of a first place by the slugger. Papermakers, Pete Koll who went so good against the Bays at their 12 to 5 defeat last Sunday, probably will start in one of the outfield positions. Vanderloop will probably start things on the mound for Kimberly and try his hooks against the Sawdust city swatters. Harties, the hard hitting catcher is slated to do the receiving. Charles Schnell, who cleaned the bases at Green Bay with a homer will be at first base. Marty Lamers at second, John Phillips or Ted Lamers at short, with Butch Thein holding down third. The outfield positions will be taken care of by Verbalen, Smith, Cavil, Koll and Thein. Oshkosh now leads Kimberly, having won three and lost one out of four starts. The first game of the season was played against Oshkosh, and went into extra innings, Oshkosh finally winning in the tenth inning, when with the bases filled, Weed of Oshkosh was hit by a pitched ball, forcing in the winning run of a 2-1 victory. Poca pitched against the Noelmen in the first start and proved effective at all times though errors behind him resulted in a loss. The game Sunday will begin at 2:30 sharp seats will go on sale at 1 o'clock. General admission for all games will be 25 cents with ladies and children under 12 admitted free. All grandstand seats will be 15 cents.

HELPFUL HINTS GOLFING STARS

BOBBY CRICKSHANK—TEE AND PUTT SHOTS The height of the tee should be determined by the style of play of the individual, the lay of the land, and kind of ball used, and the wind. In driving where there are few, or no obstacles, a player should use a medium-sized tee. On a windy day, playing with the wind, the player should use a high tee and stand slightly behind the ball, this enabling him to hit the ball well into the air where it will receive all the benefit of the wind. Against the wind, a low tee should be used so that the trajectory of the ball will be on a straight low line. The pitch shot is always a safe way to a green but the run-up is often better if you have a clear space to the green. It is also easier. In playing a run-up, a straight-faced club should be used, and throughout the back-swing the club-head should be kept low. CRICKSHANK The pitch and run, a combination of both, is also a very useful shot but rather difficult.

FRIDAY GAMES Jones park—Interlakes vs Y. M. C. A. Fourth Ward — Post-Crescent vs Legion (post.)

In one of the most closely-contested softball games ever staged at Jones park, a game in which two fighting teams scored only five runs between them in nine innings of play with an indoor baseball, the American Legion crew held onto the top rung in the Twilight loop Wednesday afternoon by beating the Meyer Press team, 3-2. The loss by the Printers showed that crew from a triple tie for the top to third place. First place will be decided Friday afternoon at the Fourth ward diamond when the Legion and P-C crews now tied for the top meet in a postponed game. In a regular loop game the Interlake and "Y" squads will fight to get out of the cellar. An Interlake win will give that crew a tie for third place and a "Y" win will tie the Triangle for fourth place.

Wednesday's game was a hurlers duel between Lohar Graef and Stuck Colvin, with support deciding the tilt as it has all tight games this year. Graef's Legion crew gave him better support than the Pressmen gave their hurler, many easy flies being dropped in the printer outfield. Colvin allowed only five hits but his mates erred three times in critical moments. Three errors also were chalked up against the Legion men in critical moments. They added the Pressmen to their two runs. Graef also allowed five clean hits. Smith, Koll and Graef scored Legion runs and Wheeler and Skall got the other hits beside those made by the run-getters. R. Colvin and Wenzel scored for the Printers and these men with Timmers, Casperson and Weber, accounted for Meyer Press hits. The winners opened the scoring in the initial frame on Smith's hit. Baetz's out and Skall's safe drive. In the third frame the Pressmen took a 2-1 lead when Colvin and Wenzel scored as the result of Legion errors and Press outs. Then in the fourth a

CHUTE PULL SQUAD CHALLENGES RIVALS

The tug-of-war team of the Jacob Coppus post of the American Legion of Little Chute, which won the valley tug title for 1926 at Neenah recently, challenges any legion team in the state to a battle to take place at Little Chute on July 4, 1926, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The tug is to be a six-man event and the winners will be awarded a prize of $25. The Chute team averages 200 pounds. The valley champs beat Oshkosh with ease and then whipped Appleton, 1925 champ, to take the title. Acceptance of the challenge should be mailed to D. Oudenhorst, captain of the tug-of-war team, Little Chute, before Friday, June 25.

COBBS HAS PROMISING ROOK IN HURLER JOHNS

"Give us pitchers," has long been the cry of the Detroit Tigers. Always a good fielding outfit and especially noted for its batting prowess, Detroit year after year has failed to break into pennant circles because it wasn't stout enough in the hurling department. This year, however, Manager Cobb believes he has one of the best staffs he has had since he took over the piloting reins back in 1921. Several youngsters showed enough stuff during spring training to warrant their retention, the most promising being "Lefty" Johns, a little flinger purchased from Fort Worth of the Texas League, where he had a great campaign in 1925.

John thus far has given several masterful exhibitions, his most recent being a shout victory over the Nats. Johns allowed but six safeties in that fray. With Johns taking his regular turn in the box along with Cobb's veterans, Daus, Whitehill, Follway and Stoner, the Georgian and his Tigers have a corps of pitchers that isn't the worst in the majors by any means. Johns, in a way, is not a youngster, having passed his twenty-sixth milestone. But he's just a recruit in so far as major league experience is concerned.

Baseball Strategy Often Overplayed, Evans Says

BY BILLY EVANS Can baseball strategy be overplayed? I have in mind the use of the intentional pass as a defensive move. For years the intentional pass in baseball has been one of the most unsatisfactory plays from the viewpoint of the fan. Since some effort pays the way, it seems some effort should be made to curtail its all too frequent use. Many suggestions have been offered but apparently none has been deemed worthy of a trial. Last fall the gift safety became as unpopular in football as the intentional pass in baseball. The wise men who make the football rules immediately decided a penalty that will correct the safety evil. The run makers in baseball appear to be entirely too conservative. Babe Ruth, baseball's greatest attraction, is the player who is the chief target for the game's so-called strategy, the intentional pass. The winning of the game is, of course, the big thing. Any move that will keep the opposition at bay is regarded as good baseball, regardless of how it appeals to the fans. Practically every American League manager works on the theory that if you stop Ruth, you erase the Yankee's greatest threat, you keep the game buster out of the picture. The idea is no easier way to remove the Ruth menace than to order the pitcher to pass him. However, such a method of disposing of Ruth, doesn't give the supporters of the game a run for their money, since they get a few if any opportunities to see Ruth in his favorite specialty, the making of home runs. The Philadelphia Athletics have been very successful against the New York Americans this season. Mark's club has won six out of the last seven games against the American League leaders. I doubt if any club goes to the extremes the A's do in curtailing Ruth's batting efforts. If in doubt, give him a base on balls, is the set policy of the Mackin pitchers. In a recent series with the Athletics, Ruth received nine bases on balls. In the pinch, when there was a chance that one of his long drives would

STRIB AND BERLY IN TITLE BATTLE

Critics Expect Aggressiveness of Present Champion Will Win Him Stribling Go

New York—(P)—Paul Berlenbach, the fighting champion, takes his light heavyweight crown across the danger line when he faces Billy (Young) Stribling of Atlantic, Ga., in a 15-round battle at the Yankee Stadium Thursday night. Critics believe that Berlenbach will have the advantage if he shows that aggressiveness that made him famous, a continuous drive with both hands, with an outstanding power in his left. But he will find Stribling hard to hit and at the same time hard to avoid, for Paul is not the fastest man in the ring.

Stribling is the younger man by three years and has gained most of his experience in battle. He possesses two good hands, with the right most effective, but he never has been considered an aggressive ringman. Thursday night perhaps with a championship at stake he may gamble for he knows full well that aggressiveness in the form of unrelenting attack, has been awarded many a victory in the hurling department. He has asserted that he expects to knock out Berlenbach and there are many to side with him, although the champion is likely to carry slight odds to the ringside.

BREWERS MEET WEAK COLUMBUS BALL CLUB

Milwaukee—(P)—The Milwaukee Brewers by chalking up their sixteenth consecutive victory in defeating the Minneapolis club tied the season record which was established by the New York Yankees. The Brewers have an excellent chance of increasing their record as they meet the Columbus club, one of the weakest aggregations in the league, in a series starting Thursday.

RICHARDS MAKES SEMI FINALS IN NET MEET

Paris —(P)—Vincent Richards, American star, won the final set of his postponed match with Baron VonKehring of Hungary Thursday advancing to the semi-finals where he meets Henri Cochet. The score of the match, which was halted by rain Wednesday was 6-1 6-3 6-3.

AT LAST! BALTIMORE HAS SOME OPPOSITION

It looks as if Baltimore is to have a bit of real opposition in the International League this season after all. The Buffalo Bisons are giving Duon's team quite a strenuous chase at present and may surprise the dopsters by keeping it up. Nothing would do the circuit more good than to have some club smash the long reign of the Orioles.

Paris —(P)—Marcel Nilles, heavyweight, lost to Gipsy Sanel, English boxer (10.)

Dave's Dots And Dashes

We have hesitated to say much about the Brewers grand march to date, well, because you know the Brewers. Now, however, with a new record established our skepticism has vanished. The Brews sure are playing ball and their hurlers are all there. One of the reasons why they lost out after good starts in the last few years was the hurling corps. They hit well and fielded well but the moundsmen failed to come through. The new manager also is responsible for some of the better play. Last year about half the club were on the outs with Harry Clark at one time and another and many members still don't care much about playing for Herr Otto but Lev-eliet has made a bit with his men and they are out to win for him. They'll do it too. Don't be a bit surprised if Milwaukee wins the flag this year. All that's needed is another reliable pitcher for the time when the break comes and one of the regs must hurl out of turn.

Norris Rowbotham, star center of the Beloit grid team in 1924 and a high mentor, has been named head coach and physical education director at Milton. The Gold star played for four years at Beloit and was highly recommended by the Beloit coaches. He assisted Coach Iverson at Sheboygan high this year and was one of the squarrest men and best sports in the conference as all who came in contact with him will affirm. He met him several times at grid and cage games when he handled a watch. We wish him great success at his new post and hope he whips everything in the state—but Lawrence.

Appleton fans who journey to the Bay Sunday will have a journey worth while. The Green Sox whipped the local men in the opener here, 2-0, on a first-inning homer and were held scoreless the rest of the way. Since that time only Kimberly's has beaten them. Crowe allowed only six hits but LaCrosse allowed only four. Dats is out to even his score with the man who is known as the loop's leading hurler. Since the Bay game the locals have found their batting eyes, especially Cully Schultz, and LaCrosse may find the going harder.

Fans who enjoy real ball also might take a journey down to Jones park most any night. Two softball leagues are playing and prospects are bright for an entire season of the closest games ever seen in softball, also the smallest scores. Of seven games played in the park so far this year, four have been by one-point margins, another by two and another by three and the first five were decided in the final innings. Another game ended in a tie when it rained in the seventh frame. In only one game did the score of either team run over seven and that was a 12-11 one point win. The other scores ran like this: 7-6, 7-6, 5-4, 4-4, 5-3.

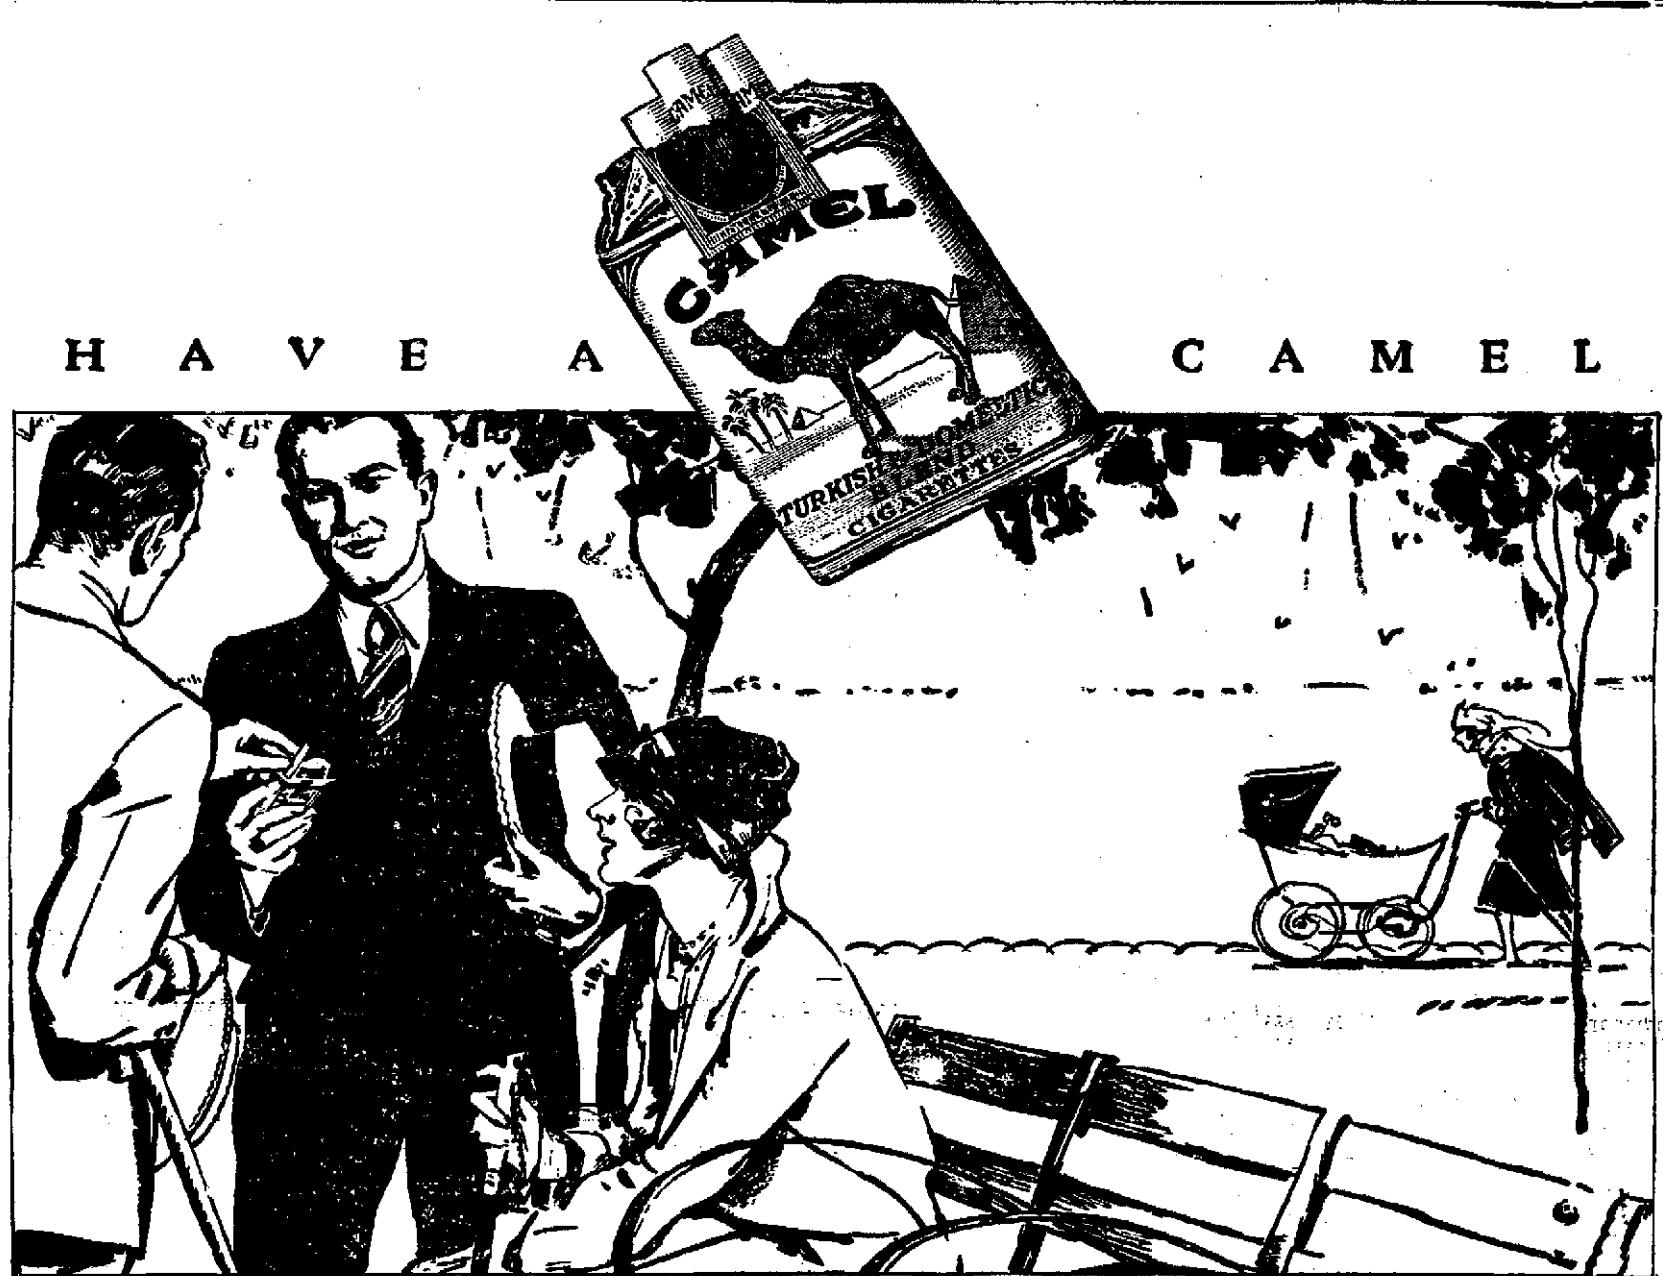

RAY BLADES STARRING FOR HORNSBY'S TEAM

Ray Blades, Cards' outfielder, has been doing his share of swatting for the Missouri team this season. As

BREWERS TIE MAJOR MARK; 16TH IN ROW

Milwaukee—Returning to the old time slugging form, the rampant Brewers employed strong-arm methods in reducing the sudden Miller's to pulp Wednesday, winning 12 to 4, and extending their brilliant winning streak to sixteen consecutive games. The victory ties the early season mark of the Yankees, who ran amuck until Lefty Groves applied the pressure. Base hits rocketed to all points within the park, and even outside, and together with the general indisposition of the Koks the afternoon was thoroughly enjoyable to the 4,000 cash customers.

lead-off man, Ray has been getting on often and scoring many markers. Blades is a real star, but not much is said about him because he happens to be on the same team as the great Hornsby and the clever Bottomley.

Camel is the smoker's sign of friendship

IN THE home, or at the club—in busy office or crowded street—whenever friend meets friend, you will hear that magic invitation—have a Camel!

And wherever Camels are lighted, men come together in more friendly understanding. No other cigarette ever had or made so many friends or brought so much added friendliness to the world as Camel, for Camel's quality is a universal language.

Camel is more than a cigarette. It is an experience in smoking enjoyment—the finest this old earth affords. Camels contain the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos grown, and these fine tobaccos are superbly blended, as in no other cigarette. The enjoyment of Camels goes on forever, for they never tire the taste no matter how liberally you smoke them. They simply never leave a cigaretty after-taste. No other cigarette in the world is like them. Millions of experienced smokers who could well afford to pay more will buy and smoke only Camels.

Whenever and wherever you meet a friend, let that be a standing invitation to the sheerest enjoyment that ever came from a cigarette.

Have a Camel!

BUCS TAKE LOOP LEAD AS CINCYS LOSE TO ROBBIES

Work of "Weak" Boston Braves in Scalping Leaders Gives Pirates Chance at Top

Chicago—(AP)—Thursday the world champions of baseball once again lead their league with an uprising of the Reds of Cincinnati suppressed. But it was not a Pirate horde that put down the revolt, but a brave band of armorer from Boston, considered fighting men of calibre heretofore yet not quite capable of carrying for squabbles in the first division of the National League.

Seven straight battles have gone to the Braves, and they have not hesitated to take their toll from the best opponents obtainable—these same Redlegs of Cincinnati having dropped four topless in Boston.

The Pirates took the lead by downing the Phils Wednesday 9 to 7 in ten innings. Third baseman Huber of the Phils made it hard for the champions by hitting a homer to tie the score in the ninth but Cuyler singled with the bases filled in the following frame to gain the decision.

Meanwhile Brooklyn accomplished the feat by taking a tenning struggle from Cincinnati in which Dazzy Vance recorded fourteen strike outs, only one way from his record for nine innings. At that Vance did not receive credit for the victory for he gave way to a pinch hitter in the ninth.

Bill Sherdel, of the Cardinals, left-handed a six-hit effort against the Giants and won 4-2, St. Louis having little difficulty in solving the service of the veteran Jimmy Ring.

The Braves made the Cubs their seventh straight victim, 6-3, sending across four runs in the opening inning to give Joe Genewich courage.

Once more the Yankees fell upon the Tigers when all seemed lost and won by 4-3, giving them a lead of 1 1/2 games in the American League because Chicago downed Philadelphia for the second time.

The White Sox won by linking their bingles with misplays by the Athletics and giving Thomas brilliant support throughout. Miller of Cleveland allowed Washington 14 hits but won 11 to 5. The Browns took their second straight from the Red Sox, 6 to 4, making ten victories out of 14 starts since they returned home.

AMERICA'S HOPES IN WIGHTMAN CUP PLAY

With Helen Wills, national tennis champion and America's biggest hope in any net competition, out of action for some time due to an appendicitis operation, prospects for a United States triumph in the annual battle for the Wightman Cup look rather dubious this year.

This international affair between American and British women players is one of the big spots of the tennis campaign. This season it will be held on the famous courts at Wimbledon, June 17 and 18. The battle scene alternates every day, being staged in this country one season and in England the next.

Last year, it will be recalled, the rutions led The flashy Elizabeth Ryan handed Helen Wills and her crowd the second beating in as many seasons. In 1923 Uncle Sammy's girl triumphed, taking all seven matches.

This year America will be represented by Marion Jessup and Eleanor Goss, who will play against her teammates of a year ago.

England will bank on Mrs. Beamish, Mrs. Phyllis Covell, Evelyn Colyer, Betty McKane Godfrey and possibly Joan Fry.

Just what the Americans will accomplish without Helen Wills is problematical, of course. But one thing is certain and that is Marion Jessup and Eleanor Goss, who will bring the trophy back to this country.

England will bank on Mrs. Beamish, Mrs. Phyllis Covell, Evelyn Colyer, Betty McKane Godfrey and possibly Joan Fry.

Bays Beat Baetzmen Here in Opener on First-frame Homer by Chief Williams

Fond du Lac—With the race for the valley league pennant tightening up nicely as a result of Green Bay's upset at the hands of Kimberly last Sunday and Appleton's win over Fond du Lac, three good games are scheduled for this week end and the league officials are looking for bumper throngs at each contest.

Neenah is coming to Fondy on Sunday determined to break into the win column on the heels of Larsen's aggregation and the Neenah manager is doing everything possible to get rid of it. Neenah has lost four games, one was a forfeit another a five inning tilt while loose fielding tossed away the other two encounters.

PROFESSORSHIP IS ACCEPTED BY TREVER

Karl L. Trever, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Trever, 555 E. Alton-st, has accepted an assistant professorship in history at Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington, Ill., according to word received here. He will begin his new duties next fall. Mr. Trever graduated from Appleton high school in 1919 and from Lawrence college in 1923. He was prominent in forensic activities both in high school and college. During his junior year at Lawrence he won the intercollegiate state oratorical contest and later placed first in the district contest at Indianapolis. A year ago he received his master's degree from the University of Wisconsin and during the last year has taught history in Baraboo high school.

Web Lake Calls Fishermen - In Search Of Virgin Waters

BY B. A. CLAFIN
In former years fishermen and outdoorsmen in general were forced to confine their activities to nearby places. It was all right to do this too for in those years there was plenty of fish and game at our backdoors. With the advent of the automobile, however, came an increasing scarcity of wild things of nature. This was a natural consequence. It could not be averted. Nor is it possible, as conservation matters are now handled, to effect a replenishment equal to the demand. But once the thrill of landing the incomparable brook trout, or fighting to a finish the gamey bass is experienced, nothing but sanity can overcome the desire for the "silent places" where the ozone of the woods stimulates as nothing else can, and where the cool, quiet nights rejuvenate the system no matter how jaded.

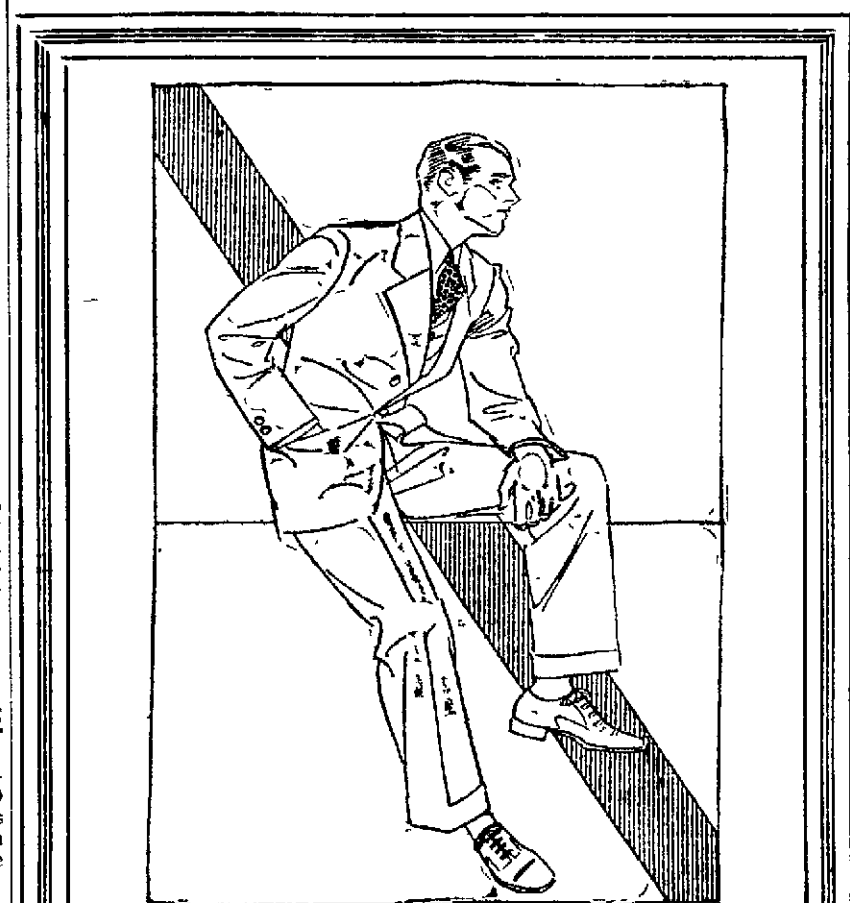

Granted, then, that the "call of the wild" must be heeded, in order to partake of the best of nature's rich offerings, it is now necessary to seek the more distant places far from the beaten trails. It is true that a modicum of pleasure may yet be had in many places comparatively near home but few of us are satisfied with mediocre results. We crave the unusual, the unexplored spots and the expectancy always confronting us in new territory.

Having covered every section of Wisconsin's playgrounds it is within our province to point out some of the unusual and little known spots which the reader may invade with the assurance that the reward will be commensurate with the effort.

Now that the season for black bass fishing will open in two weeks, we are going to tell you of a lake that is yet unspoiled by resorts, one which is as near to being virgin waters as it is possible to find. It is known as Web Lake and lies tucked away among the hills some twenty five miles north-west of Spooner. This section of the country is yet unvarmied and very sparsely settled. There are no good highways leading in to the lake, nothing but winding sand roads which are best negotiated by light cars, but, once you are there, what bass fishing!

This lake has 30 miles of the finest bass shoreline, lily pad covers big reed beds, stumps, and well, its all there and the Oswegos are whoppers. Five

PIRATES DUPLICATING EARLY 1925 EFFORTS
Pittsburgh seems to be duplicating its 1925 performance. It will be recalled the Pirates started poorly a year ago only to overhaul the leading clubs about the middle of the season. This spring a weak beginning was again experienced, but of late the team has been winning quite consistently and is only a few games removed from first place.

Grow Hair - this New Way!

An entirely new method of scalp treatment has been perfected. It is not a tonic. It is totally unlike anything you have seen or heard of before. Its simplicity will delight you. Its results amaze you. But one application a week is needed for many scalp troubles. It leaves no after-odor—no greasy effect.

Guarantee in Writing
Many extravagant claims have been made before. Often the public has suffered. But note our fair offer. This method must stop Falling Hair. Must destroy Dandruff. Must grow hair—or money back. There are no strings to this guarantee. It is in writing. It appears in every package. You are fully protected.

STIM
COMBATS SEBORRHEA—AND GROWS HAIR

Now NEW METHOD

Seborrhea Causes Baldness
Well may you wonder at such a broad guarantee. But this treatment is not a mere tonic. We have studied hair troubles scientifically—and discovered some amazing facts. We found that the hair grows from a bulb—not from a root. These hair bulbs seldom die from natural causes. They don't come out with the hair. But frequently they become weakened. Then hair troubles commence. Seborrhea is most often the cause. Infection sets in. The hair becomes dull, lifeless—starts falling. Eventually baldness takes place. But here is the marvelous thing. Remove infection—stimulate dormant hair bulbs to renewed activity and the hair grows again.

New Method Combats It
Now we have found a way of combating Seborrhea. A new method for stimulating hair growth. This treatment is called STIM. The principle is scientifically correct. It is not just a tonic. Hence its amazing success. It must stop Falling Hair. It must destroy Dandruff. In writing we guarantee that it must grow hair—or money back.

Results Are Guaranteed
No matter what your condition—or how many "tonics" you have used without avail—now give it to yourself to give this scientific method a fair trial. Remember this is no ordinary tonic. It must stop Falling Hair. Must destroy Dandruff. Must Stimulate Hair Growth—or it costs you nothing. You are the sole judge. In every package is our written guarantee that results must satisfy you or your money back. Could we possibly make you a fairer offer? We urge you to accept it today. SANTAS CO., Brooklyn, N. Y. 44

WISCONSIN WEATHER
 Showers or thunderstorms probable tonight and Friday, except partly cloudy. Friday in west portion, cooler Friday.

WEATHER CONDITIONS
 The pressure continues high and the weather fair from the Mississippi eastward. Lower pressure over the plain states is moderating and becoming more local in character, with local showers and thunderstorms over the northern plains.

The high pressure is expected to continue to influence conditions in this section tonight, with generally fair weather and moderate temperatures. The western "low" may advance its influence this far eastward by Friday, the weather becoming unsettled and possibly locally showery conditions.

SAECKER OFFICER

OF FOUNDRYMEN
 Is Elected Vice President of Fox River Valley Foundrymen's Association

Carleton E. Saecker, superintendent of the Appleton Machine Co., was elected vice president of the Fox River Valley Foundrymen's association at its organization meeting Wednesday evening at Hotel Northern. Mr. Rothe of Green Bay was elected president and Mr. Lawton of Green Bay, secretary. Mr. Ziebell of Oshkosh was chosen treasurer. Sixteen men representing ten foundries of the valley attended the meeting. Cities represented were Appleton, Green Bay, DePere, Brillion, Two Rivers, Oshkosh, Neenah and Waupaca. Chester Allen, in charge of the second division of the University of Wisconsin extension work, and Professor R. A. Elliot of university college of engineering, also attended.

The group had met here earlier in the spring to start an organization. It was completed Wednesday evening and the name was chosen. The study of grey iron foundries will be one of its major projects.

Plans for the next meeting which will be held in July, were made and these included reports on projects to be undertaken by the association. One definite project which will be undertaken and which will be reported on is that of getting the state university to do research work along the line of specific foundry problems. Suggestions on how to start this project will be heard at the next meeting.

FINE FISHERMAN

MUNICIPAL GOLF

COURSE FAVORED BY LOCAL C. C.
 Approve Recommendations of Golf and Supervised Play Committees

A report recommending the establishment of a municipal golf course at South Park in the Fourth ward, submitted by E. H. Harwood, chairman of the municipal golf links committee of Appleton Chamber of Commerce, was approved by directors of the chamber at their meeting Wednesday noon at Conway hotel. The golf links committee is a branch of the community welfare committee. Mr. Harwood and his committee will meet with the park board to consider the advisability of establishing such a course in the near future and to plan means of financing the step.

George P. Werner, chairman of the supervised play division of the community welfare committee, presented a plan for a demonstration of supervised play in this city. The report was accepted by the directors. Mr. Werner will meet with various civic organizations and luncheon club executives to devise means of carrying out the committee plan. About $600 will be needed for the experiment.

Dr. D. O. Kinsman, chairman of the community welfare committee, told the directors that his committee had held two meetings recently and that it had been divided into several sub-committees each handling one particular phase of community work.

J. D. Seel, chairman of the legislative committee read a report favoring certain reforms in state taxation, especially the return of the personal property offset feature. This report was approved by the board and will be submitted to every chamber of commerce member for a referendum vote. If it is voted on favorably it will be sent to the interim committee on taxation of the state legislature.

SIX LOCAL SWIMMERS IN LIFE SAVING CLASS

Six Appleton swimmers are enrolled in the life saving class being held by the local Y. M. C. A. in connection with its "Learn to Swim" campaign for 1926 which lasts until June 19.

The first class was held at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at the association pool and the classes will be held at the same hour every Monday, Wednesday and Friday until June 19.

Bruce McInnis association swimming instructor, is in charge of the work. Wednesday evening the swimmers practiced the various strokes used most in life saving and exercises to aid in the development of the strokes.

The "cary" and various kinds of rescue float were used as well as the breast and side strokes. A "cary" for rescuing swimmers who were tiring or had cramps was worked out as well as approaches to the drowning person. A short talk on the idea of life saving by Mr. McInnis concluded the lesson.

Spain Insists On Permanent Seat

League of Nations. In this connection it is pointed out that the project to establish a board of control convention to limit traffic in arms was dropped because of American refusal to accept any system closely linked with the league organism.

The disarmament question is passing through a crisis but the American delegation seems determined to stay in Geneva and see the matter out. It is the opinion of the Americans that lack of progress is due to the unwieldy size of the military and air experts committee. They think the distribution of technical questions among sub-committees would be more advantageous.

The political problem in Europe also is hindering progress. Some of the European delegations are holding that it would be desirable to suspend the meeting of the military committee for several weeks or months. The Americans, however, are holding out against this.

Markets

YELLOW TRUCK HITS HIGH MARK
 Prices Become Irregular as Professional Selling Pressure Is Renewed

New York (AP)—Stock prices displayed a firm undertone at the opening of Thursday's market which was featured by a brisk demand for the railroad shares. Initial changes as a rule were small. Pool operations were again apparent in many issues on expectations of a lowering of money rates when the June 15 tax, interest and dividend payments are disposed of.

Yellow Truck and Coach preferred touched a new high for the year at 93 1/2. Common stock of the U. S. Steel Corporation, which makes public its May tonnage statement Thursday noon opened 5 1/2 lower at 131 1/2.

Prices turned irregular soon after the opening when professional selling pressure was renewed against some of the stocks. Motors and specialties.

International combustion was hammered down nearly two points before the end of the first half hour and U. S. Steel common, Crucible Mack Trucks, Hudson, Central Leather preferred and Coca Cola extended their loss to a point or so. Maracaibo Oil advanced a point, and most of the common improved fractionally in response to reports of domestic trade improvements. Rails held firm. Gulf Mobile and Northern preferred advancing a point to a new high at 102 1/2.

Foreign exchanges opened easy. Demand sterling held fairly firm around 4.86 but French francs again dipped below the 3 cent level and moderate recession also took place in the Belgian and Italian rates.

Railroad shares continued to give the best exhibition of strength in the forenoon's irregular trading. A revival of interest in the Vanuweren issues lifted the prices of Pere Marquette Chesapeake and Ohio and Nickel plate 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 points, while Jersey Central sold 14 points above the previous close.

United States Steel common, which recovered most of its early loss as an expected small decrease in May unfilled tonnage was reported, but Gulf States continued heavy. Call money renewed at 4 per cent. The closing was firm. Total sales approximated 1,400,000 shares.

105 GRADUATE FROM APPLETON TRADES SCHOOL

Will Award Certificates at Class Exercises Friday Evening

Certificates will be awarded 105 students at the class exercises at Appleton Vocational school which are to be held Friday evening at the school. Fifty-six of the students will receive honor diplomas and 49 will receive ordinary certificates.

The plan of awarding honor certificates was adopted last year for the purpose of rewarding students who completed their work with exceptional skill or spirit or for excellent scholarship. The people to be awarded honor certificates usually spent more time on their work than was required by the school, according to Herb Heitz, director, and it is these people who will join the evening school next year.

All students who finished work at the school this year do not receive diplomas, according to Mr. Heitz. Students whose grades in accomplishment, character and application do not measure up to the standards are not awarded a certificate. The teachers of the school hold a conference at the end of the school year and the students deserving certificates are selected at that time.

W. W. Frank will deliver the address of the evening and Herb Heitz, director, will present the certificates. A short playlet will be given by several students and a short musical program is being arranged.
